EASTERN TORIES ASSAIL RATE EQUALIZATION

Mayor Sees Era of Prosperity For City

$3,000,000 SLASH IN ASSESSMENTS FOR 1926, MAYOR ANNOUNCES TO-DAY

Tax Collections for 1925 Up to End of September $100,000 Ahead of Those of Last Year; City Now Entering Era of Prosperity; Mayor Says Conditions Rapidly Improving.

With the tax collections for 1925 up to the end of September soaring $100,000 ahead of 1924 figures, and with indications generally pointing to another year of growing prosperity for the City of Victoria, Mayor J. Carl Pendray this morning announced a ten per cent cut in property assessments for next year.

"Providing we can hold the mill rate where it is, this will mean that 1926 will see one of the most startling tax-cutting campaigns ever waged by a municipality," said Mayor Pendray this morning. "A ten per cent cut in the assesments would mean that the total cut would amount to $3,000,000 or over. Last year assessments were dropped by about $1,000,000, and with three times that amount being cut away next year the taxpayer will have a less arduous row to hoe," declared the Mayor.

PEOPLE CONFIDENT

The people are showing their confidence in the city's future in a concrete way by paying their taxes in advance and in keeping their property out of debt to the city, Mayor Pendray stated, having perused the figures fresh from the Treasury Department. This plan of advance payment of taxes will be a great help to the municipality, he added.

Figures issued to-day, which caused the Mayor to voice his approval of the situation in which the city found itself, are as follows: Prepaid taxes on account for 1925, $282,780; prepaid taxes in full for 1925, $175,514.88. Total of prepaid taxes for 1925, $456,295.57. Prepaid taxes on account for 1924, $268,819.66; prepaid taxes in full for 1924, $88,488.79. Total of prepaid taxes for 1924, $357,308.45.

The above figures show the firmer financial condition of the city in so far as tax collections are concerned in comparison with last year's financial reports.

BETTER THAN 1924

Last year was a good one, so far as the city treasury was concerned, Mayor Pendray admitted this morning, but he was hopeful that this year would be even better. The plans for reductions in assessments and taxation were bound to materialize, he believes.

Last year $4.02 per cent. of the current tax levy was collected by the city, amounting to $1,537,000. This year, Mayor Pendray believes, the collection will be even better. The indications this month are such that 1925 will be far ahead of last year, for up to now 1925 is just $100,000 ahead of 1924.

"At last," said Mayor Pendray, "we can show the people that we are moving ahead, and not just treading water."

BOTH PARTIES PLAN ACTIVE BATTLE HERE

Liberals and Conservatives Arrange to Hold Meetings in City Soon

Bowser Embraces Old Enemy, Stevens, at Vancouver Love Feast

Both parties in the present Federal election campaign will swing into action here soon with a series of Victoria meetings. Arrangements for meetings in the interest of W. McK. Ivel, the Liberal candidate, and Hon. S. F. Tolmie, standard-bearer of the Conservative Party, are being made now and will be announced in a few days. Meanwhile both parties are opening campaign rooms on Yates Street. The Liberal rooms will be in the Bellevue Hotel.

Leaders of the two big parties will reach the Coast within a few days to deliver speeches on the mainland. Premier King will reach Vancouver Saturday and will speak in the city and in New Westminster. Telegrams received here to-day from the Premier's secretary stated that he would be unable to visit Victoria because of engagements which force his early return to the prairies. His

COWPER LIBEL CASE PROCEEDS

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—Legal strategy this morning temporarily withheld criminal proceedings aginst J. S. Cowper, charged with defamatory libel before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald at the assizes.

After long argument between opposing counsel and the bench when Gordon Wismer, defending barrister for Cowper, asked for adjournment of the trial on the grounds that he was "wholly unprepared" to go on, that he had received short notice of the time set for proceedings and that it was customary for private prosecutions to attend the end of the sitting, court was adjourned until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the case would proceed despite the condition of either defence or prosecution, he declared.

The charge concerns publication in Saturday Tribune on June 6 last, wherein alleged events in the house occupied by F. L. Baker at 3851 Osler Avenue on the night preceding the death of Janet Smith are narrated.

U.S. REJECTS FRENCH OFFER ON WAR DEBT

No Proposal Made Acceptable to U.S. Commission

Negotiations to Discover Common Ground of Agreement Continue

Washington, Oct. 1—France's proposals to date for settlement of her war debt to the United States have been found unacceptable and to-day, the last day of the scheduled stay in the United States of the French financial mission, feverish efforts were put forth in an effort to find a common ground for agreement.

The width of the gap separating the offers of French Finance Minister Caillaux and proposals of the American debt commission is a matter of pure conjecture. The two missions were called into joint session to-day to once more go over the situation.

After a conference at the White House this morning between President Coolidge and the American commission a statement was issued by Secretary Mellon for the committee which called on the President and declared that no proposal had been submitted to Mr. Coolidge for his approval or disapproval.

The statement said: "The representation in the press on the supposed authority of a member of the French commission that agreement has been reached and purporting to give the terms is entirely incorrect. "Such a statement obviously did not come from M. Caillaux because before the adjournment of the subcommittees last evening the French members were informed by the American members that their proposals were not likely to be accepted.

WESTERN COUNSEL REPLY TO CROW'S NEST RATES OPPOSITION

British Columbia Rates Order Distinctly in Compliance With Order-in-Council, Which Gives Explicit Instructions to Equalize Rates on Crow's Nest Maximum, McGeer Argues.

Ottawa, Oct 1 (Canadian Press).—Argument in support of the McKeown-Oliver judgment, under which rates on grain moving west from the prairie provinces are reduced to the eastward rates, proportionate to distance, was granted before the Board of Railway Commissioners this morning.

S. B. Woods, counsel for the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, occupied the entire morning and had not concluded his argument when adjournment was made at noon. He dealt with the contention that the order which is being contested was "ultra vires, a nullity and made without jurisdiction" by saying that the application for its recision was proof that it was of real force and effect. If there was no order there was no reason for the application. The railways could either have refused to file the revised rates or have done so and appealed to the Supreme Court.

INTERRUPTIONS

Mr. Woods dealt at some length with provisions of the Railway Act as applicable to the order and application under consideration. His argument was productive of several interruptions and one or two clashes with Commissioner A. C. Boyce. At one point Mr. Woods protested: "I don't want to be taken out of my stride, Mr. Commissioner Boyce, and it is not fair to do it," he said.

Commissioner Boyce placed the circumstances leading up to the issuance of the order before Alberta counsel. He said that two commissioners had gone to British Columbia, held sittings and come back to Ottawa. Then they held sittings of the full board and stated what they proposed to do in the case. The majority of the board, said Commissioner Boyce, had protested against the proposed action.

"You are aware that it is usual judicial procedure for the majority to rule, and this board is a judicial body," he informed Mr. Woods. Then he asked him if he thought the order was a proper one.

Mr. Woods replied that if the majority of the board had directed that the action proposed by two members should not be taken, the subsequent order would not have been regular. This the majority had not done, however.

BY CHIEF COMMISSIONER

"How could this court function when the chief commissioner was the only man who signed the order and did it without the knowledge of the board?" queried Commissioner Boyce. "Your argument apparently is that a minority of the board can issue a

BANDIT GIVES DETAILS OF JAIL BREAK

Tells How He Made Dummy Guns With Shoe Polish, Chewing Gum and Wood

Seattle, Oct. 1.—No real pistols were used when six prisoners broke jail here September 15 and a jailer opened the outside door, T. H. Johnson, one of the six, disclosed in a narrative of the episode published to-day.

"I made all the guns," Johnson, who was recaptured Tuesday after an attempt to rob a bank here, declared. "Made a lot of them. Some of them did not look right so I broke them up and dropped them into the garbage.

"First I made the handles and part of the barrels out of wood. Then I took tobacco cans and cut out enough tin to put around this rough shape to give it the appearance of a gun. I sawed the handles off some spoons and bent them to look like trigger guards.

"I took fountain pen covers and cut them and fitted them into the wood to make them look like gun barrels. The rear sight was half the screw top of a tooth paste tube. The front sight was a piece of tin. It and the piece of the fountain pen were glued to the gun with chewing gum. I blacked the guns with shoe polish.

"Morgan let us out."

Morgan was head jailer, dismissed after the break. How the fugitives gained egress from the rear door of a corridor to a street had been a mystery. The prisoners had made a bolo-like weapon by fastening a butcher knife to a broomstick.

"I marched Morgan to the door with the spear at his back," explained Johnson.

ORDERED DRUGS IN NAME OF DOCTOR

Vancouver Man Faces Charges in Winnipeg Court

Winnipeg, Oct. 1—Alleged by police to have posed over the telephone as a doctor and so ordered quantities of cocaine and morphine, Walter Hull of Vancouver was arrested Wednesday by the Canadian Mounted Police and handed over to the city police this morning. He will appear in court Friday. Police say his procedure was to telephone a drugstore, giving the name of a local doctor, and order a quantity of "dope" to be sent to the office. He would then, it is said, take a seat in the waiting room of the doctor's office, intercept the messenger boy with the drugs on his way up, and hand over a prescription he had written in exchange for the morphine.

McGEER CONFIDENT WEST HAS WON OUT IN GRAIN RATE CASE

G. G. McGeer, Government rate counsel now appearing before the Railway Board in Ottawa, telegraphed to Premier Oliver to-day that he was confident the board would not rescind its order granting equalized grain rates to Western Canada. Mr. Oliver stated that he was not sure the board would consider at its present sitting the complaint of British Columbia that the railways have not given the western grain movement as large a rate reduction as was ordered.

CONSERVATIVE ORGAN BITTERLY DENOUNCES KING FOR AIDING MOVEMENT OF GRAIN WESTWARD

Quebec Tory Wing Under Patenaude Will Seek to Smash Equalization Order, Says Montreal Star, Chief Conservative Mouthpiece, in Slashing Assault on Western Rate Reductions; B.C. Tories Dumfounded by Second Eastern Declaration Against Rights of West.

Efforts of the Conservative Party to convince British Columbia electors that it does not stand for the interests of the East as opposed to the West crashed to the ground to-day, when copies of an editorial in the chief Conservative organ, The Montreal Star, bitterly assailing the equalization of westbound grain rates, were received here.

In violent language, The Star, for years the mouthpiece of the Conservative Party in Eastern Canada, attacks the Liberal Government for its concessions to the West. This attack, following closely the frank declaration of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, against rate concessions to Western Canada as "utterly indefensible," shows clearly where the Conservative Party stands on the most vital issue of the present election.

Publication of The Star's editorial on the Mainland of British Columbia last night caused another violent upheaval in Conservative ranks like that which followed Mr. Meighen's "utterly indefensible" speech. For weeks Conservative leaders in this Province have been attempting to explain away their leader's Halifax declaration against the West. They admitted to-day, however, that they could never hope to overcome the Conservative organ's virulent assault on the Liberal Government for favoring the West. If anything further than Mr. Meighen's speech were required to mark out the issue of the campaign in the West, Liberal leaders asserted to-day, The Star's hectically-worded editorial adequately fills this need.

How Conservative leaders like Hon. H. H. Stevens and Hon. S. F. Tolmie can ask for support in Western Canada in the face of their leader's declaration and the frantic outburst of their chief organ against the West was the subject of much speculation all over British Columbia to-day. Thousands of votes in this Province, it is believed, will be influenced by these developments.

WILL OPPOSE WEST

The Star's editorial announces definitely that the Conservatives running in Quebec now under Mr. Patenaude will not support the equalization of Western grain rates. "Patenaude," The Star declares, "will not support or tolerate the McKeown (equalization) order. He will not go out of his way to strike a blow at his home port, the port of Montreal. He will not 'abolish the Rocky Mountains'—on paper—in order to kill the grain trade of the St. Lawrence, beside which he lives."

The full text of the editorial, headed, "Mackenzie King for McKeown and Against Montreal," follows:

"It was hardly to be expected that Quebec would be given so prompt a proof of the necessity of putting a Patenaude party on guard at Ottawa, as Mr. King obligingly furnished last night at St. John, N.B.

SEND MEMBERS TO REPRESENT WEST PREMIER URGES

Make Western Ideas and Policies Known, He Tells Moose Jaw Audience

Works in Harmony With Progressives as Part of Country

Moose Jaw, Oct. 1—Send members to Ottawa so that they can present Western viewpoints and policies for the East to understand, was the text of Premier Mackenzie King's speech at Moose Jaw last night when he reiterated his plea for unity in the Dominion.

From the same platform, Premier King and Premier Dunning of Saskatchewan pressed the Liberal campaign in the prairie provinces. The night was not so stormy as for the last meeting in Regina, but roads and streets were still heavy with snow and slush, impeding traffic from the outlying districts.

Premier Dunning said the outstanding issue of the campaign was the proposal of the Conservative Party to have an all-around increase in the customs tariff if returned to power.

"The issue," added Mr. Dunning, "is as straight and clear-cut as was the issue of reciprocity in 1911."

DOMINION RIGHTS

Premier King said that there could not be a policy designed exclusively for one province or group of provinces without working injury to the Dominion as a whole. In the East, the Premier went on, he had asked what were Maritime rights apart from the Dominion as a whole just as he would ask what Western rights were apart from the rights of the Dominion as a whole. Whatever the rights of either the Maritimes or the West might be, they should have those rights as part of the Dominion as a whole, as Canadian rights.

TO JOIN CABINET

The Prime Minister repeated his Regina declaration that after the election he will invite Premier Dunning to join the Federal Cabinet. Western Canada, Mr. King continued, now had before it the question whether it should isolate itself. "If the West does that," declared Mr. King, "the West can not say that the East should be reproached because it does not understand Western ideas and Western policies. The East is asking you to join them as the Eastern representatives join with each other. It rests with you whether Eastern Canada is to understand Western Canada. It rests with you

BOOTH WILL ASK TOTAL EXCLUSION OF ASIATICS

C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate in Nanaimo, he charged, had signed a one-man report declaring that a 25 per cent. reduction would be sufficient.

"If I had been your member," Mr. Booth asserted, "I would have signed a report in favor of a 100 per cent. reduction. I stand for the exclusion of the Oriental. Are you going to send to Ottawa a man who would only vote for a 25 per cent. reduction in the Japanese licenses?"

Mr. Booth told the meeting that he was convinced that there was every prospect of a Liberal victory in the coming election. "If," said Mr. Booth, "a man comes to you for the renewal of a contract, you naturally look back over his records to see if he has fulfilled his stewardship satfactorily, and if he has you naturally renew the contract. That is what is going to happen at this coming election. The Mackenzie King Government is fighting for the unity of Canada, for prosperity for the West as well as the East. The policy of the Liberal administration is to reduce the cost of production. Why should the producer pay twice as much for his machinery on this side of the line as in the United States? How can a man compete in the world's market on such a basis? The Liberal policy is to reduce the cost of production so that production can be increased."

TWO BIG ISSUES

C. H. O'Halloran spoke of the two outstanding questions which have formed a definite issue of this campaign—the tariff and freight rates.

"The tariff affects the cost of living, and freight rates affect the advancement of the West," said Mr. O'Halloran. "Each one of you has an equal interest in the development of the country, and it is up to the people carefully to consider the records and the platform of the political parties that some before you on the eve of an election.

"When blue ruin preachers come before you and tell you that the country is going back, just consider these facts," said the speaker.

"In 1921 this country imported $80,000,000 worth more than it exported. In 1924 this country exported $260,000,000 worth more than it imported. It doesn't take much brain to figure that if we sell more than we buy we are making money. How, in the face of these facts, can the country be going back?"

ATTACKS PESSIMISM

Carew Martin declared that "the leader of any party who goes about the country making misleading statements regarding its condition and credit, is not worthy of the confidence of the citizens of Canada." Mr. Martin was dealing with recent statements made by the Conservative leader regarding the present condition of Canada. In replying to Conservative statements alleging that 2,000 firms had closed their doors in 1924, Mr. Martin produced figures showing comparative failures during the last number of years as well as during the closing years of the Meighen administration. These proved that the margin of increase of failures was very small indeed.

EXPLAINS DEVELOPMENT

David Ramsay dealt with the policies underlying the arguments for a high protection tariff, showing the possibilities of the development of the basic industries of mining, agriculture, fisheries and forests. He argued that the basic industries could not be properly developed with the handicap of a high tariff. He instanced the huge profits made by the manufacturers of motor cars in Canada arising out of the exceptionally high tariff in respect of this industry, showing by a number of examples the great burden that the high tariff placed upon the people of Canada.

PRAISES PREFERENCE

N. W. Whittaker, president of the Saanich Liberal Association, declared that "Canada is the only country within the Empire which has extended the hand of practical friendship to the Mother Country," said Mr. Whittaker, in discussing the Liberal policy of British preference. He emphasized the Conservative opposition to this policy of development of trade within the Empire. The speaker showed that Canada was really attempting to strengthen the bonds of the Empire in a very satisfactory and practical way, and that despite the everyday benefits of this policy the Tory party was nevertheless harping upon the worn out cry of partition of the Empire.

J. M. Kelly, who presided, congratulated Mr. Booth upon the amount of new blood he had assisting him on the platform.

C. Pointer moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

AT DEEP COVE

After the meeting at Tillicum Road, Mr. Booth addressed a meeting at the Deep Cove Hall, and was greeted with spontaneous and hearty applause.

At the opening of his address Mr. Booth stated that throughout the whole of the Nanaimo riding, as throughout the Dominion of Canada, the people were presenting a united front, and rallying to the cause of the Liberal policy and Mackenzie King.

"By reason of the trade policy of this Government and the revision of the tariff," said Mr. Booth, "Canada's export now exceeds its imports, and the Canadian dollar stands 100 per cent. in any money market in the world."

Mr. Booth challenged anyone present at the meeting to tell him of anything that Mr. Dickie had done during his four years as member of Parliament, for the Nanaimo riding. "Mr. Dickie has made four speeches," said Mr. Booth, "and every speech made is good campaign material for me."

"During Mr. Dickie's four years in office," said Mr. Booth, "he could not find time to visit his district, but yet, Mr. Dickie will find time, in the twenty-nine days prior to the election to visit all sections of the district and ask for the support of the voters."

"The Liberal policy is to impose a high tariff on luxuries, the things that the wealthy people can afford to pay for. The Liberal policy is protection for the masses and not for the classes," said Mr. Booth in conclusion.

Other speakers were C. H. O'Halloran, Mrs. Stuart Henderson and M. B. Jackson.

The chair was taken by E. Blackburn.

During the evening songs were excellently rendered by Mrs. Cora Reid of Victoria.

judgment over the heads of the majority," he declared at another point.

Mr. Woods objected to this. "I won't have words put into my mouth," he said.

"You've gone so much into public print on this matter that I am fairly familiar with your argument," retorted the commissioner.

At another point when Mr. Woods was making a legal argument, Commissioner Lawrence said:

"I'm a layman, but I think we should use a little horse sense."

Mr. Woods argued that the railways would lose nothing from the order, while the Western producer of grain stood to gain a great deal.

FOR PRAIRIES

S. B. Woods, K.C., counsel for the Governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan, presented the case for his clients when the Railway Commission resumed this morning. In order that the commission might realize the effect of the recent order which he was upholding, Mr. Woods pointed out that the wheat crop in Alberta this year was estimated at 110,000,000 bushels and that of Saskatchewan at 240,000,000. He thought that under the order approximately half of the Saskatchewan grain would go West and the whole Alberta crop would also move to Vancouver.

The order om the board would affect the grain moving West from Saskatchewan to the extent of one cent a bushel and that moving from Alberta to the extent of two cents a bushel. Therefore, the effect of the order was to put a large sum of money directly into the pockets of wheat growers in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

WILL LOSE NOTHING

He asserted his view that the railways would lose nothing by the order. "Why are they objecting to it then?" asked Commissioner Vien.

Mr. Woods thought the railways were protesting not because of the loss but because of the effect they feared the order would have on the general freight rates inquiry.

"Is it true that since the order went into effect, Ocean-going vessels have put up a diferential rate against the port of Vancouver?" asked Commissioner Vien.

Mr. Woods said that his information was that no such action has been taken.

WOULD HIT FARMERS

The question at issue, said Mr. Woods, was whether or not the order would stand until the general rate inquiry was completed. He contended that the railways would not benefit even if the order was upset. It was the lake carriers of grain who would profit. But, if the order were rescinded the farmers in the two provinces which he represented would certainly suffer.

When those contesting the order claimed that it was ultra vires, a nullity, and made without jurisdiction, they could not, under the Railway Act, come before the board and protest it, said Mr. Woods.

The railways could either have ignored the order or they could have complied with it, then, as provided in the Railway Act, appealed to the Supreme Court against it.

"If there is nothing before the board, if there is nothing to rescind or change, there is no reason for this application," Mr. Woods maintained.

OF REAL EFFECT

"Supposing you find that you have an order which you can not enforce, which is futile, do you argue that you can not come to this board for redress?" asked Commissioner Boyce.

Mr. Woods declared that under the Railway Act he would be entitled to come to the board for an order which would render the futile one inoperative. He contended that the application under consideration was proof that those protesting realized that the order was of real effect.

Mr. McGeer recalled that he had argued in support of his case, that lower rates on Alberta grain to the Pacific would give larger revenue to the railways. This was because when the movement was all to the head of the lakes it was largely a seasonal movement with high expense for empty car transport. The empty car cost was reduced by the movement of grain to the Palific. One of the difficulties of British Columbia had been car shortage, and in 1920 the Province could have sold a billion feet of lumber more than it sold had it had a sufficient supply of car space. With grain going to Vancouver, the cars returning gave space for eastward freight.

NOT REPRESENTED

Mr. McGeer advanced it as significant that the Dominion millers were not represented in this hearing, and were the order injurious to their business they would be represented.

He contended that grain men were not opposing the order.

Mr. Pitblado intervened with the statement that the constituency he represented included the grain men of his city. He also pointed out that the Province of Manitoba had filed a protest against the order.

Mr. McGeer held that, contrary to the British Columbia rates order being in violation of the order-in-council, it was distinctly in compliance with it. He interpreted that the order-in-council was an explicit instruction to the commission to equalize grain rates in accordance with the Crow's Nest maximum without delay.

A PROPER ORDER

Mr. McGeer sought to support his argument on this point by a statement made recently by Premier Mackenzie King in a speech in St. John to the effect that the British Columbia rates order was a proper one.

"Would you offer speeches by a cabinet minister or a prime minister in interpretation of orders-in-council?" asked Commissioner Boyce.

Mr. Pitblado objected to quotations from such speeches and the Chief Commissioner ruled that Mr. McGeer could not proceed on the point.

"When the Prime Minister of New Brunswick comes in here and says he is opposing an order of this board and asking you to rescind without saying why it should be rescinded, then I say it's time to stop that kind of development," declared Mr. McGeer.

A GOOD ROUTE

Turning to the C.P.R., Mr. McGeer declared that the time had come when that corporation should step out and serve the interests of Canada. It had done it in the past. It must do it now. The Pacific route was a good thing, not only for Vancouver and Alberta farmers, but for both railways.

He declared he would show that the Crow's Nest rates on the Canadian National Railway were altogether too profitable, returning higher profit than the general average of traffic on either system.

He ridiculted the idea that the majority of the commission should constitute a court to veto the decision taken at the direction of the chief commissioner.

Mr. McGeer said he believed that by the Pacific rate traffic could be diverted from Buffalo and from American railways. The railway workers of British Columbia were vitally interested.

NOT UNDER OLD RATES

The Saskatchewan Co-operative Grain Co., when proceeding with the construction of a $1,000,000 elevator at Buffalo, was not prepared to build elevators at Vancouver under old Pacific rates. But a representative of the company had told the board at its Vancouver hearing that it would be justified in large expenditure if the grain rates Westward were the same as those to Fort William.

Mr. McGeer declared that examination of rates would show that it was more profitable to haul Alberta grain to Vancouver at Crow's Nest Pass rates than to haul to Fort William. There was a four-mill rate to Fort William and a seven-mill rate to Vancouver. This was on the basis of the new order.

PROFITABLE SHORT HAUL

Mr. McGeer wanted the railways to relieve themselves of the unprofitable long haul from Alberta to Fort William and substitute a profitable short haul to Vancouver. Mr. McGeer admitted that the board had full legal right to reverse the McKeown-Oliver order, but without good cause he did not think it should be reversed.

Mr. McGeer concluded by declaring that the grain trade of Vancouver was being seriously disrupted by not knowing what the rate was to be. He therefore argued that the Montreal application should be dismissed, and if it was not to be dismissed there should be some decision without delay so that the rates would be known.

OFFER NOMINATION TO HON. T. G. NORRIS

Ex-Manitoba Premier Will Consider Liberals' Unanimous Request

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Hon. T. C. Norris, former premier of Manitoba and present member and leader of the opposition in the Provincial legislature, was tendered the unanimous nomination of a Liberal convention which met last night to choose a candidate for the Federal constituency of South Winnipeg.

Mr. Norris expressed his gratification at the honor accorded him but asked for several days to consider the matter.

$500,000 NECKLACE IN THIEVES' LOOT

New York, Oct. 1—Jewelry valued at $750,000 by Mrs. James P. Donohue, daughter of the late Frank W. Woolworth, was stolen from her apartment at the Plaza Hotel last night. The robbery was consummated during a few minutes that Mrs. Donchue was absent from her bedroom but still in the apartment.

The loss was discovered almost at once and was reported to the Hotel management but no clue was found on first examination and the police department was called in to-day.

Among the articles listed was a pearl necklace valued at between $450,000 and $500,000.

BOTH PARTIES PLAN ACTIVE BATTLE HERE

prairie meetings already have been arranged and advertised.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, will arrive in Vancouver October 7 but whether he will come here is not known yet. Mr. Meighen's chief purpose in coming to the Coast at this time is to explain away the effect of his Halifax speech attacking westbound freight reductions as "utterly indefensible."

BOWSER SUPPORTS STEVENS

Politics made strange bedfellows at the big Conservative rally in Vancouver last night when W. J. Bowser, former Opposition leader in the Legislature, appeared on the same platform with his bitter enemy, Hon. H. H. Stevens, and declared that he had nothing but the friendliest feelings for the Vancouver Conservative chieftain. A year ago Mr. Bowser and Mr. Stevens broke definitely when Mr. Stevens leagued himself with the Provincial Party against Mr. Bowser and publicy repudiated Mr. Bowser's stand on the freight rate issue. Mr. Stevens' attitude on that occasion was blamed by many Conservatives for their party's utter defeat in Vancouver and the failure of Mr. Bowser to secure re-election in the city which he had represented for two decades in the Legislature.

The campaign is warming up on the Island now with candidates in Nanaimo and Comox-Alberni holding many meetings. In the northern Island riding the chief argument used against A. W. Neill, Independent, is that he is really a Liberal at heart. As Mr. Neill has always stood for Liberal principles as opposed to the doctrines of Mr. Meighen this is not calculated to injure him, his supporters assert.

MAGISTRATE ORDERS TRUCK CONFISCATED

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—Police Magistrate J. S. Jamieson in Burnaby police court Wednesday ordered confiscation of a motor truck used for illicit transportation of beer by John Macrie, four weeks ago. The truck is alleged to be owned by Joseph Alvara of Vancouver, whose counsel gave notice of appeal against the order of confiscation.

REBELS SHELL CAPITAL CITY FROM HILLS

Spanish Troops Called to Duty in Face of Riff Threat

French Begin New Offensive Against Tribesmen

Tangier, Oct. 1—Tetuan, capital of Spanish Morocco, was heavily shelled by the rebel Moroccans, using 75-millimetre guns Monday night, according to advices reaching here to-day.

The bombardment was directed against the city from the hills to the southeast. The Spaniards admit casualties of seven killed or wounded. Some animals were hit and buildings were damaged.

The Spanish artillery replied to the Riffian fire by shelling over the town from the hills to the north of Tetuan. Eventually the rebels' guns were silenced. It is not known what casualties were inflicted on the Riffians.

The civil population of Tetuan is uneasy as a result of the bombardment. However, the important communications with Ceuta to the north and Tangier to the northwest, have not been affected and traffic on these roads continues normal.

In consequence of the new Riffian threat to the Spanish capital all the Spanish troops on leave in Tangier have been recalled to active duty.

NEW OFFENSIVE

Fez, Oct. 1. — The French began a new offensive against the Riffian tribesmen in the eastern sector this morning. The weather conditions which had halted military activities during the last two days, have improved.

The operations which have as their objective the straightening of the line north and east of Kifane, were quite successful, the French claim, their troops easily taking the important heights of Kerehoul, north of Kifane, on the right bank of the river Caouia.

The French continued to advance under artillery protection in a direction dominating the Djebel Aknoun.

Paris, Oct. 1. — Dispatches received from Beirut, Syria, announced that General Gamelin, the French commander, after dismantling the citadel at Sueda, proceeded to the wells of the region where he is preparing an offensive in another direction.

This, says The Echo de Paris, means that General Gamelin, after thirty-six hours of occupation of Suedia was obliged to evacuate the town, owing to lack of water and inability to bring up supplies in the face of the enemy, who also evades battle. He is proceeding to Messel Prer, where the wells are located. This place is on the border of Djebel Druse region and was the starting point for the relief force which captured Suedia and released the garrison.

BUNGLING IN U.S. FLYING IS CHARGED

Col. Releases Verbal Bombshell at Inquiry

Incompetency Sent Shenandoah to Its Doom, He Says

Washington, Oct. 1. — Condensing all of his previous charges into one verbal bombshell, Col. Wm. Mitchell concluded his testimony before the president's Air Board yesterday by charging the navy with "amateur bungling" of its last three major aeronautical projects.

In rapid succession, the former assistant Army Air Chief told the board that incompetency and mismanagement by the navy sent the dirigible Shenandoah to its doom on "a propaganda mission" to the Midwest, that tropical type planes were given navy fliers with the MacMillan Arctic expedition, and that the Hawaiian flight was attempted with a gas supply known to be inadequate.

His appearance preceded several other witnesses, who added vivid chapters to the running story of the activities of American air forces.

Lieut.-Col. John A. Paegelow, commandant of the army balloon school at Scott Field, Illinois, testified that a local thunderstorm and not a line squall brought disaster to the Shenandoah.

Major Clarke Brant, air officer attached to the general board, admitted under questioning that the general board was preparing an answer to Col. Mitchell's charges, and that since his last outbreak it had "given much attention" to aircraft problems.

He also said the value of aircraft in the Hawaiian manoeuvers had been minimized in the press.

PRESSMEN SEEK ANOTHER CABLE

Desire More and Cheaper Telegraphic Facilities

Melbourne, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—The Imperial Press Conference got well down to the task of dealing with the resolutions for the consideration of the delegates at Wednesday's session.

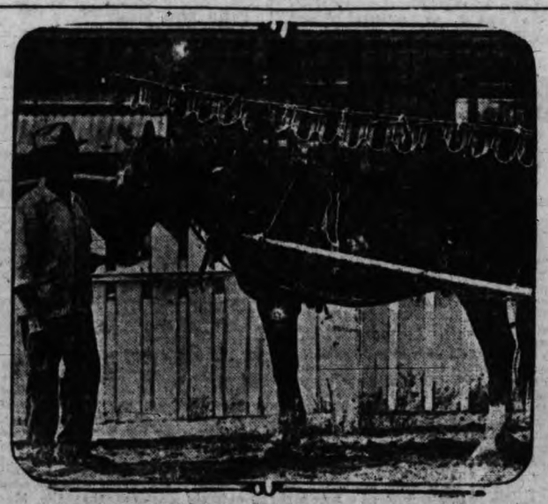

The first one to be considered demanded more and cheaper telegraphic facilities for the newspapers and requested the British imperial cable system to lay another Atlantic cable. Delegates from South Africa and New Zealand with the assistance of the Australians, put through a resolution urging the British Postmaster-General to hasten the completion of Beam wireless stations and requesting that each one of the Dominions have the same rights as the Marconi Wireless Company in construction and operating their own stations in Great Britain. Canada was mentioned in this connection as a favored party and Lord Burnham, the president of the conference, pointed out that it was a private company which was operating the station.

FORMER PREMIER IS FINED $1,000

Judgment Against Sir Richard Squires on Income Tax Charge

St. Johns, Nfld., Oct. 1.—In the actions taken by the Finance Department against former premier, Sir Richard Squires for failure to make income tax returns for the years 1919 to 1925, judgment was given today against the defendant by Judge Morrison of the district court, on the 1921 claim.

The judge held that the document and affidavit purporting to be a statement of the defendant's income for that year were not a correct return under the Income Tax Act and imposed a fine of $1,000. The judge observed that the defendant was in default for four years and that the maximum penalty under the Act was $120,000.

REDS IN LABOR PARTY MEET FIRM SETBACK

Liverpool Convention Overwhelmingly Defeats Radicals Resolutions

Liverpool, Oct. 1. — The Red section of the Labor Party received another heavy setback yesterday with the defeat of a resolution by which they planned to open an attack on J. Ramsay MacDonald for his procedure regarding the notorious Zinovieff letter while he was Prime Minister. One part of the resolution, which was a composite one, demanded that the Labor executive send an apology to the Soviet Government and Zinovieff, through Mr. MacDonald, since the executive had been unable to prove the authenticity of the letter which advocated overthrow of the British Government.

The resolution also urged the Labor Party to withdraw from Parliament and for the resignation of Premier Baldwin's Cabinet. The next Labor Government, it declared, must appoint trusted working class representatives to take charge of all the administrative departments.

The resolution was overwhelmingly defeated by a show of hands.

Tuesday in no uncertain way the Parliamentary Labor Party, in conference here, registered its refusal to countenance the admisison of Communists to the party. The executive committee's resolutions against either affiliation or individual membership were carried by majorities of about nine to one, the first vote being 2,954,000 to 321,000.

BUTTER TO COST MORE

THE TRADE TREATY between Canada and Australia goes into effect to-day. Our morning contemporary, previously impatient because the King Government did not facilitate its operation, informs its readers that it will damage agriculture and "reduce almost to the point of freedom from duty" the tariff on the importation of Australian butter.

We pointed out yesterday that Canada imported only 34,615 pounds of butter from the outside during the twelve months ending last July as compared with 2,742,145 pounds for the fiscal year of 1923. It is now possible to analyze the morning paper's fears with additional detail. News reaches us that butter prices are going up almost immediately because Great Britain is demanding more supplies from the Empire—not especially for sentimental reasons, but because Denmark is now selling more to continental European countries than ever before, a development which is causing the Old Country, formerly a heavy buyer of Danish butter, to look for other sources of supply. The British importer is naturally looking to Canada and the Antipodes. How will that affect this country? How will it affect the dairy industry in British Columbia?

There will be greater opportunity for Canada to sell more butter. British Columbia, far from feeling any adverse effect through the operation of the treaty, should share very materially in that opportunity, for this reason: Our output last year was no more than 3,670,600 pounds. This year's yield is expected to be between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 pounds. But this Province consumes between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 pounds of butter every year. Most of our supplies, over and above that furnished by our own dairymen, come from Alberta. Alberta is now a butter-exporting Province. No less than 4,000,000 pounds of its 21,000,000-pound output last year went overseas. Only a few years ago, we are reminded, she was a butter-importing Province, just as British Columbia is to-day.

Where does the morning paper imagine we are going to get our requirements filled, unless we import from the Antipodes, when Alberta finds more profitable outside markets? And how on earth will such importation injure the dairy industry of this Province as long as it is about 10,000,000 pounds behind in production for domestic needs? The obvious thing for British Columbia to do is to make still more determined efforts to meet the local demand and reap some of the benefits which the Old Country market offers.

The morning paper's objection to the butter provision of the treaty is a fair sample of the campaign material which the Tory propaganda factory is distributing to the press which is supporting Mr. Meighen. It is stupid on the face of it. It is wrong and misleading in every particular.

MORE "ABSENT TREATMENT"

IT SEEMS DIFFICULT FOR the "Irish Republicans" in the United States to forget that the Irish Free State is the Irish Free State and a long way from being the "Irish Republic." The attack upon Mr. Mulcahy yesterday was not unique, save for Mr. Mulcahy, but another example of the way some people occasionally pay the neighboring republic for its gifts to them.

No demonstration across the way will have the least effect upon Irish politics. It is merely a form of "absent treatment" which causes Uncle Sam a good deal of trouble and expense. It is an insult to him, physically uncomfortable for the object of attack, but useless for the cause its advocates pretend to have at heart. Meanwhile, according to all reports, the Free State is rapidly putting its house in order and getting down to business.

MR. BEATTY ROUTING THE GLOOMSTERS

EVERYWHERE THE president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company goes in this Dominion to-day he sees improved and improving conditions and says unhesitatingly that there is absolutely no ground for gloom of any kind. Here is just a simple sentence from his address in Regina yesterday; nothing sensational about it, but typical of the direct manner which Mr. Beatty employs when he has something to say:

> "I am more impressed with your prospects than ever. The general improvement in conditions in this western country is already being reflected in the East, it is so pronounced."

In this optimistic tone Mr. Beatty has spoken throughout the Dominion-wide tour which he is now bringing to a conclusion. His message of cheer to the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition in the city of Toronto a few weeks ago was an extremely significant statement, indicating as it definitely did that the railway executive was not being misled by the gloomy prophets who seem to abound in certain quarters. Not he; traffic returns on the C.P.R. tell a more convincing story. Judged by them, said Mr. Beatty, "business is on the up-grade." And traffic returns are cold facts—not political sophistry.

TORIES NOW GET THEIR DATES ALL MIXED UP

AT THE ARENA IN VANcouver last night Mr. H. H. Stevens and Mr. W. J. Bowser partook of long draughts from the political loving cup which the Conservative Party in that city furnished for general effect. There was a figurative falling on one another's necks. It all looked so real. Be that as it may. We shall allude to just one of the inaccuracies contained in the speech of Mr. Stevens. He said that Mr. Bowser had first started the fight for freight rate justice in 1910 and that nobody had thought of throwing it into the realm of politics until Mr. McGeer appeared on the scene twelve years later. Mr. Stevens knows he is wrong in his dates and inference. And Mr. Bowser would see through this rather clumsy love making because he was present in the Legislature when Mr. Oliver's original resolution in this connection was being discussed in 1907. Mr. Stevens has only to turn to page 82 of the Journals of the House for that year to see that for himself. But he failed to tell his Vancouver audience that the McBride-Bowser Government contributed nothing towards improving conditions after the 1910 effort to which he alludes—and that Government was in office until 1916.

MR. FOSTER BACK AGAIN

LOCAL CONSERVATIVES have no doubt observed that Mr. Arthur de Wet Foster has been chosen Conservative candidate for Hants, Nova Scotia. This is the same Mr. Foster who was accused of "grave improprieties" in connection with the purchase of army horses in Canada in the early months of the war. He was then a member of the horse-purchasing commission.

It will be recalled that Sir Robert Borden, who was then Prime Minister of Canada, literally read Mr. Foster and Mr. Garland, the latter of Carleton County, Ontario, out of the Conservative Party, observing in respect of the charges against Mr. Foster: "I am bound to say that his (Mr. Foster's) explanation to me of his undertaking the duty (that of purchasing horses) and his explanation—if it could be called an explanation—of his failure to supervise in the most careful manner the expenditure of that money, and to bring back to the Government an exact account, with vouchers, of every dollar that had been expended, must be regarded as far from satisfactory."

Later in the same speech the Prime Minister read both Mr. Foster and Mr. Garland—another member found by him to be guilty of similar war-time misdemeanors—out of the party and the public life of that time in these words: "I feel that I owe it as a duty to the Government of which I am the head, to the party of which, in Federal affairs, I am the leader, and to this House and to this country, to express, as I do here express, my very grave disapproval of their conduct in respect of the matters which have been under investigation by the Public Accounts Committee."

Presumably Mr. Foster's return to public life is approved by the organizer of the Conservative Party in Canada—Dr. Tolmie—and by Mr. Meighen. How the majority of the electors of Hants view his candidature will not be fully known until the ballots are counted on the evening of October 29. They will probably prefer to be represented by somebody with a different sort of record.

THEY KNOW NOW

JUDGED BY THE COMments which they made to the Canadian Press at Montreal yesterday, the party of British journalists who recently toured the country from the Maritime Provinces to Vancouver Island will return to Britain with excellent impressions of Canada and enough material to enable them to counteract any anti-Canadian propaganda which may find its way into Old Country journals in the future.

Each member of the party expressed himself as thoroughly impressed with everything he saw. All of them are persuaded that there are boundless opportunities here for the man who wants to work and become a good citizen. One declared that "Canada's need is the Old Country's opportunity." Another is returning to his duties on The London Times now in a position to refute "baseless charges against the good name of the Dominion," and make known to young men "of our own country the splendid opportunities that await them in Canada."

In view of these expressions it can be said that the object which the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company had in view, when he invited these journalists to come and see the country for themselves, has been achieved. The working newspaperman of Britain can learn more about Canada on a trip of this kind than he could learn from the most extensive library in twenty years.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

HENRY III.

King of England, was born on October 1, 1207. He succeeded to the title at the age of nine, but affairs were conducted under a regency until he was twenty, when he assumed control. His misgovernment caused a rising of the barons, who compelled him to accept the Provisions of Oxford, embodying many reforms. When the king later repudiated the Provisions, he was defeated in battle by the barons and kept a virtual prisoner for a year.

PIERRE CORNEILLE

Celebrated French dramatist, died on September 30, 1684. He is ranked with Descartes as the first to free French language and thought from restrictions due to Greek and Latin influences. His plays include "Le Cid," "Andromede," "Theodore," and "Polyeucte," regarded as his greatest work.

JAMES LAWRENCE

American naval officer, was born on October 1, 1781. In the war of 1812 he commanded the Hornet and captured the British ship Peacock. Later, as commander of the Chesapeake in an engagement with the Shannon, he was mortally wounded and was carried below exclaiming, "Don't give up the ship!"

SIR WILLIAM HARCOURT

English statesman, died on October 1, 1904. He was a member of the House of Commons for nearly forty years, and for four years was the leader of the Liberal party there. He served as solicitor-general, home secretary, and chancellor of the exchequer.

NAVIGATION CLASSES FOR MEN MOOTED

Prince Rupert, Oct. 1. — Here to look into the possibility of establishing navigation classes for halibut fishermen during the close season this Winter, Capt. Lionel H. Lindsay of Vancouver, examiner of masters and mates, was a visitor in the city recently. The Halibut Fishermen's Union particularly is pressing the advisability of instituting such classes and it is said that there might be at least one hundred men who would avail themselves of the opportunity of taking up the studies if arrangements can be made to hold the classes. Capt. Lindsay himself is thoroughly in approval of the idea and feels that it would be well for the fishermen to obtain qualifications officially especially since they have to go so much further afield now in pursuit of their occupation and also because Prince Rupert as a port gives promise of being much busier in the near future. Capt. Marsh, resident of this city and capable instructor in matters pertaining to navigation, is willing to take charge of the classes.

EMPIRE SMASHER DRAWS M.P.'S FIRE

Dockers' Leader Ironically Retorts to Red's Talk

Liverpool, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press Cable)—One of the speakers at the Labor Party conference being held here, declared that the British Empire must be smashed if the conditions of the workers were to be improved.

James Sexton, M.P. for St. Helens, the dockers' leader, ironically retorted that those young men who were demanding the abolition of the capitalist system and the monarchy, and who wanted an international republic, self-determination and a bloody revolution and birth control, had contributed to all these movements the magnificent sum of thirty shillings.

"Mr. King, at the present moment, is the official guardian of Quebec. He was chosen by Quebec votes to lead the Liberal Party. He was hailed as the heir of Laurier. He was given an undivided Quebec delegation to establish him in the Premiership of the Dominion.

KING ASSAILED

"Quebec could not possibly do more for him than she has done. She could not earn a greater claim upon his gratitude or secure a firmer grip upon his fears. Nor could she catch him at a moment when he should be more sensitive to her righteous demands, or even to her possibly disputable desires, than in the midst of an election when every hope he has in the world rests upon an ability to keep an unbroken Quebec.

"If Quebec, with its solid sixty-five Liberal members and with polling day in sight, cannot persuade Mr. King at least to refrain from sacrificing her plain interests and from excusing an entirely novel and unprovoked blow at one of her oldest established enterprises, then Quebec never can reckon with confidence on the friendship of the Ontario politician she lifted out of obscurity and raised to power.

"What is it, then, that Mr. King has done?

"He went out of his way in the distant Maritime Provinces to commend the astonishing ruling of Railway Commissioner McKeown and Hon. Frank Oliver that the grain and flour rates from the Prairie Provinces should be reckoned at precisely the same rate per mile, whether the grain was carried East to Montreal over the flattest country in the world or West to Vancouver over the Rocky Mountains! ! !

EQUALIZATION INCREDIBLE

"The ruling, when it came out, was regarded as incredible. No railway company—no matter how eager it was for business in both directions—had ever dreamed of trying to haul freight over the barrier of the Rocky Mountains at the same rate that it charged for running along the level grades of the prairies and the lake shore. It was not business. It was not economically sensible.

"Then the ruling was immediately disowned by the other three Commissioners. They were not compelled to speak. They could have kept silent and let their rash colleagues bear the blame. But so outraged were they by this amazing action in advance of hearing the whole freight rate case that they promptly penned and published a strong protest. Under the law, they could not upset it—though they were a majority. But they made their opinion clear.

"Montreal moved immediately to avert the blow, if at all possible. The railways, already heavily enough burdened, prepared to fight the order. The struggle is still on. The ruling that the Rocky Mountains do not exist—which would be irresistibly ridiculous if it were not so tragic—will be attacked by the full power of this Province.

KING FOR WEST

"But Mr. King will not attack with us. In spite of our sixty-five King Liberals sitting docilely behind him, he has come out boldly for the McKeown order—an order which will inflict tremendous damage upon the Port of Montreal and the St. Lawrence grain route.

"But Mr. King's gratuitous endorsation of it may get him a British Columbia seat or two. Having Quebec buttoned securely in his pocket, he goes fishing in British Columbia.

"But what if the button comes off? Then Mr. King cannot deliver Quebec, all parcelled up and neatly tied, to his Western masters. Then Montreal's grain trade, which has been the chief factor in building up our magnificent port—and which no one ever challenged before—will remain to enrich Montreal and Quebec Province.

"But the only people who can 'unbutton the pocket' and let Quebec's deceived and betrayed 'solid 65' out, are the people of Quebec. They know now that, if they vote for King, they vote for the perpetuation of the McKeown ruling. To elect a King supporter to Parliament is to elect a man to support a Premier who publicly declares that the McKeown ruling is 'fair and just.'

"The only way they can escape from this intolerable position is to vote against King, McKeown and Company, and vote for Quebec. The man who offers them this opportunity—the man who is no more bound to Meighen than to King—the man who stands stoutly up for Quebec—is Patenaude.

"Patenaude will not support or tolerate the McKeown order. He will not go out of his way to strike a blow at his home port, the Port of Montreal. He will not 'abolish the Rocky Mountains'—on paper—in order to kill the grain trade of the St. Lawrence, beside which he lives.

"In this time of danger and official threats against established Eastern interests, Quebec should put only loyal Quebeckers on guard."

SEND MEMBERS TO REPRESENT WEST KING URGES

whether Eastern Canada is to be influenced by Western Canada thought and Western opinion."

WARNING

Mr. King warned his audience to be careful of changing from one of the great national parties simply for the sake of a change. "Think," he said, "what it means to belong to a party that is confined to Western Canada.

"If you want the Liberal party to be more progressive, get into the party and make it so."

Mr. King invited all present to get into the Liberal party. As to the Progressive party, the question to be asked was how far was it effective?

"You Progressives may be absolutely right and probably are," went on Mr. King. "I will say that you are, if you look into motives and purposes. I believe you want to see things more Liberal and more Progressive. But will the Progressive help you to do it? Can you get it done that way?"

PART OF THE COUNTRY

"Mr. Meighen," the premier continued, "looks upon it as some sort of sin because I tried to work in harmony with the Progressives. But I have still to see why, when a large number of citizens are returned to parliament they should not be regarded as part of the country. I have looked upon progressives as part of the country.

PROGRESSIVE HELP

"I have tried to work with them and many of them have helped me."

Mr. King declared that he was prepared to do the fair thing by the West. "You have either got to send me followers," he said, "or give your support to Mr. Meighen and his Tory doctrine or else give it to Mr. Forke and let the West remain to itself."

The Premier was proceeding when someone shouted: "Rats."

"A man who has nothing better to offer than an epithet of that kind has got very little to contribute to the well-being of his country," the Premier shouted back.

"You won't be able to find a man by the name of Progressive in 1930," said the Prime Minister as he concluded with an appeal that there should be neither East or West but a United Canada.

SIXTY BUSHELS A SECOND SETS NEW WHEAT RECORD

Great Crop on Prairies Being Rushed to Market Faster Than Usual

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Every time the clock ticked off a second during the ten-hour working day from 7 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening of Tuesday, nearly sixty bushels of grain, the contents of a farmer's grain wagon, were loaded into cars on Canadian National Western lines.

This estimate was made to-day by officials of the Canadian National here who reported total loadings during the day of 1,417 cars containing 1,899,800 bushels. This was worked out at approximately two-and-a-half cars or 3,330 bushels per minute, and the total day's loadings would require twenty-eight trains or over fifty cars each to move the grain to the lakehead or Pacific port for export.

Rain and snow in many parts of Western Canada on Tuesday reduced the total from the previous day's record of 1,500 cars loaded at Canadian National points.

September will see the 1923 record of loading and deliveries to the lakehead greatly exceeded, however. It is estimated the September, 1923, loadings will be exceeded by at least 6,000 cars, with an increase of some 7,000 in the number of cars delivered to the lakehead during the month.

Total loadings on the Canadian National lines since August 1 have reached 27,816 cars containing 37,094,000 bushels, against 10,289 cars and 13,595,000 bushels in 1924.

Grain in store at Canadian National points is now 16,304,000 bushels against 5,684,000 bushels at this date last year. Inspections yesterday were the heaviest of the season with a total of 1,537 cars, of which 1,261 were Canadian National. The Canadian National cars inspected on the same date last year numbered 541.

To date 368 cars of grain have been delivered at Vancouver over Canadian National lines.

Saskatchewan led in loadings of Tuesday with a total of 1,249,000 bushels.

CIVILIZED MEN OLD AT FORTY

The highest authority in America, Prof. McCollum, says: "Old age disease deaths have doubled within thirty years, every year younger persons being attacked, due mostly to faulty foods." In these thirty years patent white flour and refined cereals were invented and diseases of the heart, arteries, kidneys, brain, nerves, and digestive organs have kept even pace with their ever-increasing use, until now 165,000 young people die each year in the States alone under forty, from diseases which belong to seventy or beyond.

A return to a natural, unrefined, non-acid dietary of whole grains, milk, eggs, leafy vegetables, and fruits will go far to protect civilized man from the ravages of these diseases, unknown to simple races who do not use refined products.

Roman Meal is the only non-acid grain or cereal food. 400 parts "Excess Alkali" in each 1,000 parts, alkaline enough to correct the "Excess Acids" of white flour, other cereals, meats, fats and sweets, all known to modern food science as "Excess Acid" foods, because they turn the blood from its natural alkalinity to acid. Acid blood lowers vitality, irritates vital organs, prevents body repair, prematurely bringing on old age and disease. Roman Meal keeps the blood alkaline or non-acid, relieves the organs if irritation and strain and rebuilds them, restoring youthfulness and vigor of body and mind. Being non-acid it cools the blood and keeps you upstanding and fit.

Use Roman Meal every day. It makes delicious porridge, muffins, pancakes, johnnycake, etc. Add it to your white flour baking to improve its flavor and to restore valuable properties lost in making flour white. All grocers sell Roman Meal. (Advt.)

SEPTEMBER WEATHER

F. Napier Denison, superintendent of the Gonzales Heights Meteorological Observatory, has issued the following statement on the weather for the month of September:

The mean temperature for the month was 58, two degrees above the average.

Highest temperature 79, on September 23, lowest 47, on September 20.

Total rain .51 inch which was 1.11 inch below the average.

Bright sunshine 227 hours, twelve hours above the average, or a daily allowance of over seven hours, and only on one day was there no sunshine.

From the first of this year to date all months have been above the average temperature, and only two months (January and April) were above in precipitation.

The total precipitation for the year is 12.92 inches, which is 2.62 inches below average and as the average for the entire year is 27.65 inches, the next three months will have to make up nearly fifteen inches to make 1925 an average year as regards precipitation.

FORKE RETURNS TO OWN CONSTITUENCY

Improbable Liberal Will Oppose Progressive Chief

Winnipeg, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press Correspondent)—Concluding his campaign in Manitoba to-night at Teulon, in Selkirk constituency, Mr. Forke will return to Brandon Friday, and will spend a week or more in his own constituency where the nature of the opposition he will meet is still uncertain. It is likely that a Conservative will be nominated and it is most improbable that Hon. T. C. Norris, former Premier of Manitoba, will take the Liberal nomination in Brandon to oppose Mr. Forke. Mr. Norris has been offered the Liberal nomination in South Winnipeg, where he would meet Hon. Robert Rogers.

SENATE CHARGES

In a three-cornered fight in 1921, Mr. Forke was given a majority of 5,500. In Saskatchewan, where Mr. Forke will carry his campaign during the next two weeks, he will probably emphasize the charges he had made against the Senate in defeating Canadian National branch line bills to enable the C.P.R. to construct lines into the proposed sections. It was found, he had stated, that the "Canadian Pacific was building feeders at the expense of the Canadian National through the action of the Senate."

Even Liberal Senators who were friendly to the C.P.R., joined with the Conservatives in the Senate to refuse branch lines to Saskatchewan, he stated.

Mr. Forke has predicted that Manitoba will return twelve Progressives from the seventeen seats in the province and that Saskatchewan and Alberta will "hold their own."

AT THE THEATRES

THOMSON HERE IN NEW LAUGH AND THRILL SHOW

Fred Thomson and Silver King in their latest F. B. O. production, "The Bandit's Baby"—a hilarious thriller which has more laughs than a congressional investigation — is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

As if uproarious comedy and burlesque were not enough, "The Bandit's Baby" is a smashing action western which brings Mr. Thomson back into his familiar cowboy regalia in which he has won so many laurels for popularity. A corking horse race, a rodeo, the rescue of a youngster from the tracks in a race between a horse and a train and a dozen other features make this a remarkable picture. The story and scenario, by Leese Renick Brown and Marion Jackson respectively, develop delightful situations, not the least of which is a baby show in a western town where gun threats of the proud parents make the life of a baby judge something to think about. Del Andrews did a fine job in directing the production.

EXCELLENT COMEDY OFFERED HERE BY COLISEUM COMPANY

The Coliseum company this week is appearing in another of those comedies into which they inject humor in every line. "Stop Thief," a London and New York hit, and one of the best plays in which Percy Hutchison has ever appeared, is the farce, and it is drawing laughs from Coliseum audiences. This story of a wedding, with kleptomaniacs, burglars and detectives involved, has more than the usual plot of comedy.

Columbia—"The Bandit's Baby."
Capitol—"Fine Clothes."
Dominion—"Never the Twain Shall Meet."
Coliseum—"Stop, Thief."
Playhouse—"My Lord and Ladysmith."

With the exception of "Contraband," all of Lois Wilson's recent pictures have been "westerns"—"The Covered Wagon," "North of 36," "The Thundering Herd,"—so it was with open arms that she welcomed her featured role in the new James Cruze production for Paramount, "Welcome Home," at the Coliseum.

Feature with Miss Wilson in the cast are Warner Baxter and Luke Cosgrave, the grand old man of the screen who was seen not so long ago in "Hollywood," also a Cruze-Paramount.

"Welcome Home" is adapted from a stage play by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman.

"FINE CLOTHES" UNFOLDS TENSE DOMESTIC DRAMA

"Fine Cloths," the First National picture which plays at the Capitol Theatre this week, shows the unfoldment of a tense domestic drama. John M. Stahl, its producer, thinks that domestic stories interest the public more than any other kind.

"When reading a book, seeing a play or viewing a motion picture every one likes to put himself into it—to breathe with the characters and become so rapt in them that they forget conditions unfolding before them are not actually real," Stahl explained.

"When we have read such a book, seen such a play or viewed such a motion picture we feel that we have indeed found something good and worthwhile. The keynote is reality. That is what matters most on the screen as it does in fiction and in stage drama."

Lewis Stone, Percy Marmont and Alma Rubens are featured in "Fine Clothes," which follows a long line of successful Stahl productions, including "The Dangerous Age," "The Child Thou Gavest Me" and "Husbands and Lovers."

"Song of India" ..... Rimsky-Korsakoff

PICTURE BOASTS REAL LOCATION ON TAHITI SHORELINE

"Never the Twain Shall Meet," the film version of Peter B. Kyne's South Sea story, a Cosmopolitan picture, distributed by Metro Goldwyn, at the Dominion Theatre, is proving to be one of the most entertaining productions of the year.

WATCHMEN KEPT GUARD ALL NIGHT AT FILM STUDIOS

During the filming of "Born Rich" at the Biograph Studios in New York City watchmen sat, day and night, in front of a door. The reason for this precaution was that behind the door there were gowns and other feminine finery that represented a total cost of $15,000.

Owing to the fact that Hughes Cornell's story had a background of New York social life, it was necessary to spend such an immense sum on costumes to achieve an air of splendour and luxury in keeping with the settings. The costumes were worn by Claire Windsor and Doris Kenyon, and to prevent them from being stolen a guard was kept outside the wardroom twenty-four hours a day. "Born Rich" is showing all the week at the Playhouse.

Bank Clearings Here Make Steady Gain

Victoria bank clearings continue their steady increase. October figures issued yesterday showed a ten per cent gain over the figures for the corresponding month of last year.

Clearings for the week ending to-day were issued by the Clearing House at noon, showing the total at $2,112,798. For the corresponding week of last year the total clearings were $1,909,875.

CHANGE COLOR OR SHAPE AT PARLORS

Dr. Budd Has Remedies For All in "The Beauty Shop" Which Opens To-night

If you are dissatisfied with the color of your hair see Dr. Arbutus Budd, the beauty doctor, he will change it for you. Miss Montmorency is anxious to become a blonde in October so she is to be a caller at Dr. Budd's parlors to-night at the opening performance of "The Beauty Shop" at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Dr. Budd is not only able to convert blondes into brunettes or revert them the other way, but he also has a par-boiling machine that reduces the stout ones. Another caller on Dr. Budd is an extreme stout lady who wants to be made like Norma Talmadge inside an hour. The change is made without effort.

The part of Miss Montmorency is played by Margaret Beckwith, while Olive Hartree makes up as the stout lady. Both put over their parts in admirable fashion, and are good for several real hearty outbursts of laughter.

HURRY FOR TICKETS

People who intend to see "The Beauty Shop" and have not secured their tickets are advised to attend to-night's performance if they wish to avoid disappointment. The seat sale at the Royal Victoria Theatre for Friday and Saturday has been extremelypopular and there is no question but that the house will be sold out both nights. For to-night, however, there are still some seats available.

The show will start at 8.15 o'clock.

"DIAMOND DICK"—Twenty-five years ago "Diamond Dick," famous character of the West when it really was wild, and friend of "Buffalo Bill" Cody and "Wild Bill" Hicock, disappeared from a Wild West show. Since then he has lived "incognito" at Norfolk, Neb., as Dr. Richard J. Tanner, which is his real name. His identity recently was revealed in a frontier celebration when he appeared in the regalia of "Diamond Dick." Above is the "Diamond Dick" of twenty-five years ago, and below is Dr. Tanner of to-day.

BEER BARONS REVEAL WHOLESALE BRIBERY

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Punishment was promised to-day to the "highest up" involved in the startling story of wholesale bribery of Cook County officials by Terrence Druggan and Frank Lake, youthful beer barons, unfolded in Judge James H. Wilkerson's court here when the judge indicated that Peter M. Hoffman, sheriff, would be made to suffer for the lax conditions revealed.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Charlie's Trick

Copyright, 1925, McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD H. GARIS

Charlie and Arabella Chick were two little chicken children who lived in a coop house not far from Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. Arabella was a cute little hen, and, every day, she put on a neat apron and helped her mother wash the dishes.

Charlie helped, too, in a way, but, being a boy chicken, who hoped, in time, to grow up to be a big rooster, like Mr. Cock A. Doodle, Charlie wasn't as much help around the cook house as was his sister.

"But I can pick up grains of corn!" boasted Charlie, giving a funny little crow, as much like Mr. Doodle's as he could make it.

"Yes, and you eat nearly all the corn grains you pick up!" cackled Arabella. "You ought to have seen Uncle Wiggily laughing at you the other day when you were pretending to pick up corn to help mother. Uncle Wiggily said you ate more corn than you picked up."

"Hello! What's this?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Well, I was hungry that day," answered Charlie. "Anyhow, I'll show Uncle Wiggily a trick that will astonish him! That's what I'll do—I'll astonish him!" and again Charlie crowed.

"What does that big word mean?" asked Arabella.

"It means——" stammered Charlie, but really he didn't know. He had heard Mr. Doodle use that word, so he practiced on it until he could say it very well.

"To astonish any one means to surprise them," said Mrs. Chick with a smile.

"Well, you watch my trick and you'll see me surprise Uncle Wiggily, that's what you will," crowed Charlie. "He won't laugh at me any more!"

Now the trick Charlie had decided on was to fly up into a tree and pick holes in the bark as he had seen the woodpecker bird do.

"I have wings, like a woodpecker bird," said Charlie to himself. "And I have a bill as hard and sharp. There is no reason why I can't turn into a woodpecker, and that will surprise and astonish Uncle Wiggily."

But there were several reasons why Charlie couldn't turn himself into a wodpecker bird. In the first place he was so big and heavy that his wings could not be used in flying as can a bird's. True, hens and chickens can fly a little way, but not far. Nor was Charlie's bill as slender and sharp as the woodpecker's, which made another difference.

But Charlie was bold and a bit proud, so off he strutted and soon he came to a tree with low branches.

"I will fly up into this tree," said he. "It will be easy. Then I will crow and Uncle Wiggily will hear me. Then I will pick with my beak on the bark and make holes to catch bugs and worms as the woodpecker does. Then that rabbit gentleman will think I'm wonderful!"

Charlie fluttered his wings and, by hard work, managed to get up on the lowest branches of the tree. But his claws, not being made to hold as well as are those of a bird, slipped and Charlie nearly fell. But he managed to hold on, and flapped his wings and gave a crow.

"Hello! What's this What's going on here?" cried Uncle Wiggily, hopping out of his hollow stump bungalow.

"I'm a woodpecker—that's all," crowed Charlie. "You didn't think I could be a woodpecker, did you?"

"No," chuckled Uncle Wiggily, "I didn't and I don't yet!"

"Well, I'll show you!" crowed Charlie. "Watch me drill holes in this tree with my beak! I'll show you!"

He began to pick with his bill, but when he did that he forgot to hold on with his claws, and the first thing he knew down he fell out of the tree, ker thump-o! And only that Uncle Wiggily threw down on the ground a chair cushion he happened to hold in his paws—only for the cushion on which he fell—Charlie might have been hurt.

"Well!" said the bunny gentleman, "I never saw a woodpecker do that, Charlie boy!"

"Nor, I either!" sadly answered the little rooster chap. "I—I guess I'm not a very good woodpecker, Uncle Wiggily. I'm going to be a chicken chap and pick up grains of corn."

"I think that will be better," said Mr. Longears, and after that Charlie wasn't so proud. And if the tree doesn't bark like a little dog when the pussy cat climbs it, the next story will be about Uncle Wiggily and Arabella's apples.

BANK OF ENGLAND REDUCES DISCOUNT

Cut Comes as Somewhat of Surprise to Money Market

London, Oct. 1.—The Bank of England to-day reduced its discount rate from 4½ to 4 per cent.

The reduction, which came as somewhat of a surprise to the money market, is believed to be due principally to the plethora of money and the fact that discount rates recently weakened so much as to make a 4½ per cent rate effective. Treasury bills lately have been issued at such a low rate of interest that discount houses have been doing business at 1 per cent under the bank rate, and had it not been for an efflux of gold, the official minimum would undoubtedly been reduced earlier.

The trading community will benefit by the reduction, although it is unusual for such a move to be made in the Autumn when there is so much American cotton, wheat and other commodities to pay for.

VETERANS DEMAND PENSION CLAUSES SENATE CANCELLED

Ask Legislation Passed by Government Stand

A. and N. Association Discusses Unity in Camera

Regina, Oct. 1—The question of amalgamation between the Army and Navy Veterans' Association of Canada and other veterans' organizations, was discussed behind closed doors last night at the session of the Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association.

Other matters were discussed before press representatives.

Feeling that there should be no loophole whereby the ex-service man cannot appeal from a decision regarding the amount of pension due him, a resolution was passed giving the secretary authority to act on their behalf or in conjunction with other organizations of ex-service men, to have Pension Act clauses restored which in recent legislation passed by the Federal Government were struck out by the Senate.

The resolution committee said they stood strongly in support of the Union Jack as the national flag.

The natural resources of the Dominion, they said, should be turned over to the control of the provinces.

Merger of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways would not serve the best interests of the country, they believed.

Civil servants should be allowed to join political organizations and be nominated for parliamentary positions. They should also be able to retain their positions if not appointed, the convention declared.

A protest against the present Government's policy of immigration was registered.

The present system of appointing civil servants was termed unsatisfactory.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2

Adverse planetary forces continue to hold sway both by lunar and mutual aspect, putting the fortunes in jeopardy as well as the positions of those in the employment of others. A menace of treachery and fraud as well as subtle attack is read from strong Neptune figures; and Uranus, also strong in solar aspect, hints of the abrupt and the unexpected. Mars lends to the disruptive sway, though operating without any pretence of subtlety. Avoid quarrels and defer new undertakings.

Those whose birthday it is are under an inimical rule for the year, with trouble precipitated by quarrels and impulsive acts as well as by the operation of subtle and fraudulent forces. The money is jeopardized as well as employment. Shun new undertakings. A child born on this day will be quick in mind and temper, clever but rash, and improvident in money matters. Early discipline and training are recommended to overcome congenital defects of disposition and character.

PRESS CLUB BUSY PREPARING FOR BIG HALLOWE'EN BALL

Social Season to Open With Eclat on October 30

To-day is the first of October and nominally the opening of the social season. But the real opening of the season will come on Friday, October 30, for that is the date chosen by the Victoria Press Club for its annual Hallowe'en ball.

For weeks past committees have been busy on the preliminary arrangements for this popular function and its success is already assured. The Empress Hotel ballroom has been engaged and the orchestras are rehearsing the most up-to-the-minute dance numbers with which to beguile the dancers.

As in former years the decorations will be on a lavish scale, in keeping with the traditions of Hallowe'en and its hobgoblins, spooks and black cats. Ghosts will walk, witches will ride their brooms, and there will be "pumpkins" galore. In fact this year's Hallowe'en ball will be the most ambitious affair yet staged by the members of the Fourth Estate.

Tickets will shortly be available and would-be patrons are advised to secure them early to avoid disappointment later.

SEEKS SHARE IN HUSBAND'S ESTATE

The voiding of an American divorce granted her husband, the late Sidney Gordon Russell, formerly of this city, was asked by Mrs. Clara Maude Springer of Seattle, before Mr. Justice Murphy in Supreme Court Chambers to-day.

Cleve White appeared for the official administrator, R. L. Cox, and William Straith for the applicant. The couple were married in Centralia in the year 1901 and lived three years together before the separation came. Later Russell secured an American divorce and came to this country, taking up residence in this city for some time.

The late Mr. Russell died in Victoria and Mrs. Springer asks the courts to define her status in respect to the estate. Mr. Justice Murphy adjourned the hearing for the production of further evidence.

School Children to Write Essays on Fire Prevention

Eighteen gold medals will be awarded to British Columbia school children for the best essay on the value of fire prevention, it was announced to-day by Ernest F. Gunther, chairman of the B.C. Fire Prevention Committee.

The Province has been divided into nine districts for the purpose of the competition and a medal will be awarded for the best contribution from the High Schools and another for the best contribution from the Public Schools in each district.

The medals are the gift of the fire insurance men of the province and are intended to create an interest in Fire Prevention among the school children of British Columbia.

GOT A BABY—Muriel Sirrine, nine, of San Francisco, wanted a baby sister for her birthday. When she failed to find one among her birthday presents, she went down on one of the main streets and wheeled home a baby sitting in a carriage on the sidewalk. Muriel's parents notified the police, and her "adopted sister" soon was restored to a frantic mother. Above are Muriel and the baby.

Surprise Party Held at Duncan

Duncan, Sept. 30.—A very delightful surprise party was rendered to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fleming and Miss Olive Fleming on Tuesday evening, prior to their departure from this district. The party was arranged by former Ontario residents, mostly Londoners, at which place the Flemings resided, also friends from Guelph and Mount Elgin. Like the wise virgins of old the visitors saw that their lamps were trimmed and burning, and carried them with them, as owing to an accident to the power plant there is no electric light in the residential quarters of Duncan just now.

During the evening Mr. Highsted in a short and appropriate speech expressed the sorrow of all present at losing the Fleming family from Duncan, and presented Mr. and Mrs. Fleming and Miss Olive Fleming with small gifts from their assembled friends. The recipients made suitable replies.

A "drawing and guessing" contest, for which Miss Jean Ferguson kindly donated a plant for a prize, was won by Miss Olive Fleming.

Music supplied by Mrs. McIntosh, Miss Highsted and Mr. Woodward was also much enjoyed.

A delicious supper was served, after which Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Highsted were chosen as a committee to arrange future entertainments. The delightful party ended with the singing of a verse of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and prayer by the Rev. Bryce Wallace.

Intercourt Whist — The ladies of Court Triumph, A.O.F., will hold a meeting Friday, 7.30 p.m., in Forester Halls. Following the business session the first intercourt whist game will be played with a team from Court Camosun.

PATTULLO FINDS NEW B.C. LUMBER MARKET; MAURITIUS BUYS FIRST FIR CARGO HERE

The barquentine Forest Dream, now loading the balance of her cargo of 2,000,000 feet of Douglas fir, ties and structural timbers at this port for the island of Mauritius, is taking to the British Crown Colony for use in raliroad maintenance and construction the first shipment of Douglas fir to reach that territory.

In the past Mauritius has used only European woods. Learning that the Government Railways there were in the market for a cargo of timber, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, recently cabled to the general manager outlining the qualities of British Columbia Douglas fir and giving data regarding results obtained by railroads in Egypt, India and England. He urged that British Columbia be given an opportunity to make an initial shipment to this market.

The representations made by the Minister of Lands were largely responsible for the getting of this business for this Province.

Not only is the Forest Dream carrying a cargo of Douglas fir but she is built of Douglas fir and is therefore in every sense a missionary ship for British Columbia woods.

WILL BUILD TANK FOR NEW TUGBOAT

Victoria Machinery Depot Make Start on Fuel Oil Container

The contract for the construction of the fuel oil tank for the new tug of the Victoria Tug Company has been awarded to the Victoria Machinery Depot, and work is now under way. The tank will be fifteen feet square by eight feet in height and will hold the fuel for the Atlas type Diesel engine already on hand after importation some months previously.

The new tug is rapidly taking shape at the Turpel Marine Railway yards and will be ready for launching in November, it is stated. George McGregor, head of the owning firm, hopes to have the new craft named the "Salina," and is expecting official sanction of the word any time now.

The cost of the new tug is placed in the neighborhood of $62,000, and when completed she will be one of the most up-to-date craft on the Coast.

B.C. DAIRY HERD ON PARIS MARU FOR ORIENT PORTS

If Trial Shipment of Live Animals Success Other Orders Expected

New Westminster, Oct. 1.—Dairy herds of Langley and Surrey were represented in the consignment of thirty Holstein cows which left Vancouver recently for the Cuity Dairy Company, Shanghai, China, on board the Paris Maru. The shipment included twenty-seven head of pure breds and three grades. The animals were selected by Mr. Harold Steves, secretary of the B.C. Holstein Breeders' Association, and Mr. T. D. Trapp of New Westminster, and were inspected for Orchardson & Company Limited of Vancouver, who acted as agents for the dairy concern, by Mr. P. H. Moore, superintendent of the provincial government's Colony Farm at Essondale. They were also tested by Dr. Kenneth Chester of the Federal department of agriculture.

This is the first occasion on which British Columbia dairy stock has been shipped to Shanghai, and if everything proves satisfactory it is quite likely that the shipment will be followed by others. Previously the dairy concern replenished its herd by purchasing animals from Australia, New Zealand and even in the Old Country. However, as the result of a trial shipment of Holsteins made to Hongkong about a year ago, all of which are understood to have given great satisfaction, British Columbia stock now enjoys a very favorable reputation throughout the Orient and there is every possibility that a new large market has been opened for breeders of this Province. The recent shipment to Shanghai is in charge of H. S. Hopkins of Courtenay, V.I.

Of the thirty head shipped two pure breds and the three grades were obtained from J. W. Berry and Sons, Langley Prairie, while others supplying one or more head of pure breds included Haggarty Bros., Murrayville, one; Mufford Bros., Milner, one; A. J. Christmas, Sullivan, three; Agassis Experimental Farm, five; G. H. Paul, Agassiz, one; Jas. Erskine, Eburne, one; Amos Fish, Eburne, one; Colony Farm, Essondale, three; J. M. Steves & Son, Steveston, three; J. Grauer, Jr., Boundary Bay, three; and Thomas Laing, Eburne, three.

IMMIGRATION RULING UNDER REVIEW TO-DAY

Status of Chinese Girl on Canadian Soil is Subject of High Court Argument

The status of Chow Shew Ying on Canadian soil was raised before Mr. Justice Murphy in Supreme Court Chambers to-day, after habeas corpus and certiorari proceedings earlier in the week. On behalf of the Immigration Department, M. B. Jackson, K.C., held that the Chinese girl was held legally for deportation as not the same person as represented in papers borne by her when seeking admission to Canada on the liner Empress of Asia in July of this year.

On behalf of the girl Stuart Henderson contended that she had secured a full release from the immigration authorities, had been officially landed in Canada, and her reregistration effected. Chow Shew Ying was permitted to go ashore here on July 18, a Saturday, and spent two days up town with friends before returning voluntarily on Monday to complete the process of reregistration, contends Mr. Henderson.

When she returned to the Immigration Building she was again detained and has been under detention ever since except for the time which she was permitted conditionally ashore on bond.

On behalf of the authorities Mr. Jackson holds that the girl was permitted ashore at the request of influential Chinese friends and because the immigration authorities were disposed to show as much courtesy as possible where it did not conflict with the regulations.

When the girl returned on the Monday following she was held in the regular course of such procedure for a second examination for the purpose of checking up on the authenticity of the interpretation from Chinese into English. At this second examination leave to enter Canada was definitely refused, contends Mr. Jackson.

Once landed the girl could not again be subjected to a board, and was now illegally detained, countered Mr. Henderson. Judgment was reserved.

C.G.M.M. VESSELS AT OGDEN PIERS

Canadian Skirmisher in From Montreal via Panama Canal

Canadian Transporter Brings Christmas Cheer From U.K.

Two of the larger type freighters of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine service docked during the night at Ogden Point. The Canadian Skirmisher from Montreal via Panama ports tied up at her berth here at midnight, followed two hours later by the Canadian Transporter, inbound from the United Kingdom run.

The Canadian Skirmisher has 300 tons for discharge here and 3,000 tons for Vancouver. On her last run here the Skirmisher was in the United Kingdom service of the line, but was switched over to meet the growth in the inter-coastal trade.

The Canadian Transporter will set 500 tons down here before shifting to Vancouver. Christmas cheer, steel, glassware and the usual U.K. freights form the bulk of her cargo.

The Canadian Winner, northbound in the service of the Government line, will arrive in local waters on October 4. It is not yet certain whether she will touch here on the way in or pass straight up for her mainland discharge.

Freighters of the Government fleet have been bringing fine cargoes from Britain and North European points, touching at Victoria on alternate runs.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

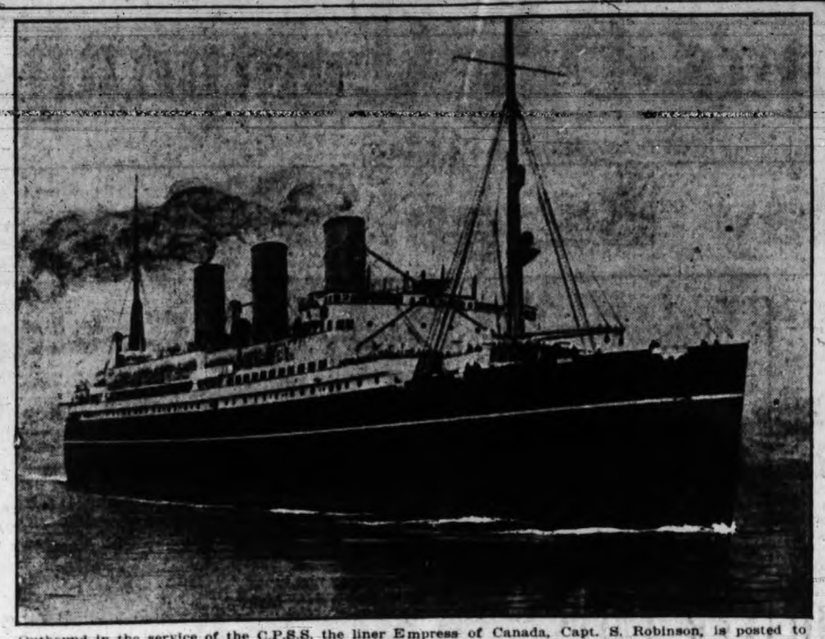

Seattle, Oct. 1.—R. C. McDonald, passenger agent here for Alexander and Baldwin, Northwest agents for the Matson Navigation Company, who has just returned from a visit to Honolulu where he assisted in displaying Washington products at the Hawaiian territorial fair held September 1 to 9, declared yesterday that a proposed excursion of Washington manufacturers and merchants to the Islands would be popular with the Islanders. McDonald said that in spite of the fact that the Washington exhibits were the greatest in volume the residents of Honolulu favored California products because of the frequent visits of business and commercial men from that State.

The Swedish motorship Axel Johnson of the Johnson Line is due here October 7 from San Francisco, where she is now discharging part of her cargo from ports in North Europe. The vessel, built recently at Gothenburg, is said to be the latest model of motorship construction. The vessel is to load cargo here, including the first shipment of apples to be sent from Puget Sound to North European ports.

With 175,000 cases of canned salmon, valued at $1,500,000, the largest and most valuable cargo of its kind ever brought to this port, the steamship Eastern Gale of the Northwestern Fisheries Company is due here Friday from Alaska. After discharging her cargo the vessel is to be tied up here for the Winter.

Sixty thousand railway employees are required to move Canada's forest crop to market and 900,000 cars are employed for the same purpose.

LEAVING TO-NIGHT WITH LARGE PASSENGER LIST FOR ORIENT; R.M.S. EMPRESS OF CANADA

Outbound in the service of the C.P.S.S. the liner Empress of Canada, Capt. S. Robinson, is posted to arrive at Pier 2 at 5.30 p.m. to-day for mail and passengers before clearing on her scheduled sailing for Orient ports. A prominent list of passengers make up the 200 in her saloon cabins, while approximately 500 passengers are making the trip all told. Norman A. Yarrow, president of Yarrows Limited, Esquimalt, will take passage on the Empress liner, on a short business mission to Japan. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Yarrow, and will return by the same boat.

RADIO DISPATCH MONEY SAVER IN TUG OPERATION

Radiophones Used to Cancel Orders and Divert Tugs While at Sea

Saving Estimated by New York Firm at $500 Per Tug Per Month

Dispatching tugboats by radio telephone is the latest innovation accredited to electrical science, which feat was accomplished this week by the New York Central Railroad Company at New York, says The San Francisco Shipping Register. Wide interest was manifested in the demonstration, evidenced by the large attendance of radio and railroad engineers.

The new system, it was proven, will permit many economies which were not previously possible. Heretofore, whenever a tug had completed a haul, it was necessary for it to return to one of four dispatching points for further orders. Now, with the new radio telephone perfected, it is possible for the dispatcher to issue orders from a central office. Instead of the boats being out of control from headquarters most of the time, they may be always within reach. Vessels can be reached to cancel orders in case shippers have altered their plans, thus saving much time and labor.

Tests conducted by the New York Central show that the average time saved to tugs will be over thirty hours per month, and measured in money will amount to a saving of about $500 a month per tug.

New Silk Record Is Established by Canadian Pacific

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—After remaining in a quiescent state for nearly a year without breaking any silk train records the C.P.R. let out another link during the past week and tore off a few more fast miles between Vancouver and Fort William on September 21. A train of twenty-four cars left Vancouver and reached Fort William in just a trifle less than fifty hours or an average speed per hour of 37.9 miles, the distance being 1,893.4 miles.

The same distance has been made in even faster time by the C.P.R., accomplishing the run at the rate of forty-one miles per hour, but with only fifteen cars. The silk on this train came across the Pacific on the Empress of Canada.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FORD PATHFINDERS EXPECT TUSSLE WITH PRAIRIE STORMS

Leave Winnipeg This Morning in Downpour of Rain

On Rail and Road Hope to Cross Canada by All-red Route

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—After traveling 2,660 miles from Halifax, 464 of which was made over the transcontinental tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the first motor car to attempt an all-Canadian passage across Canada, arrived here Tuesday night without having experienced a mishap. Heedless of the warning of Dr. Doolittle, president of the Canadian Automobile Association, who accompanied them here and who wants them to remain in Winnipeg three days until the bad prairie roads have become passable, the drivers of this pioneer car started from here at 7 o'clock this morning to continue their journey in one of the worst rain storms of the season.

Dr. Doolittle held an all-afternoon session with the crew in the Royal Alexandra Hotel Wednesday, trying to show them that they would assuredly get stuck in the "gumbo" west of here and would have to sleep in the mud for several days, but J. L. Scrymgeour, newspaperman of the party, held that the trip had been too easy so far and that he was "just aching for some exciting hardships to write about."

The car, a new type of Ford touring car, driven by Mr. Scrimgeour and Edward Flickenger, motion picture operator of the Ford Motor Company, will travel from Winnipeg via Regina, Calgary, Banff and Radium Hot Springs to Golden, B.C., on the dirt road. At Golden it will again don its flanged wheels and cover the intervening ninety-one miles to Revelstoke on the mountain tracks of the Canadian Pacific. Here the dirt road will again be taken as far as Cisco, where another sixty-two miles stretch to Haig, B.C., must be traveled over the rails.

It has taken them twenty-two days to travel the first half of the distance across the continent, but they expect to reach Vancouver within the next fifteen days. Dr. Doolittle states that in five years from now an all-Canadian dirt route highway from Halifax to Vancouver will be possible. Next Fall, he states, it will be possible to travel by auto from Winnipeg to Vancouver straight through the mountains.

WILL EXCHANGE INFORMATION ON BORDER RUNNING

Canada and U.S. in Agreement on Narcotics and Liquor Suppression

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Regulations for the suppression of smuggling between Canada and the U.S. approved recently by the governments of the two countries, were made public last night.

Provisions are announced to prevent clearances of small motor boats and similar craft for points in Cuba or Mexico, where it is suspected that the cargo is intended to be smuggled into the States or Canada, and for the exchange of information regarding persons engaged in narcotic drug traffic.

The regulations also contain restrictive provisions protecting shipments of liquor while in transit through Alaska into the Northwestern part of Canada. Further provisions deal with the return of property stolen in one country and smuggled into the other, and for the obtaining of evidence for the conviction of smugglers.

ALASKA SHIPPING RETURNING HOME FROM SEASON'S WORK

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 1.—The steamship Victoria and the freighter Nabesna, arrived here yesterday on their voyage of the season, and were unloading their cargoes. Officers on both ships reported that stormy weather had delayed them on their voyage north.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—E. N. Griffith, manager of the General Steam Navigation Company, and Lloyd B. Sanderson, managing director of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, two of the world's leading shipping men and connected with the ranking British institutions, will arrive in San Francisco next week for a few days' vacation. It is said they are on a combined business and pleasure trip.

With 135 passengers aboard, the Matson liner Matsonia, sailed from here yesterday for Honolulu. Many notables from different parts of the country are included in the list.

The Pacific Steamship Company's liner H. F. Alexander is due here today from Seattle via Victoria with a large list of passengers. The vessel will leave here Friday for New York. About 250 passengers are booked for the trip through the Panama Canal and a stop at Havana.

The United States battleship Idaho, which brought Commander John Rodgers and the crew of the ill-fated seaplane PN-9, Number 1, from Honolulu, is scheduled to steam for San Pedro to-day to join the fleet.

CHAKAWANA IS RELEASED WHEN OWNERS PAY DEPOSIT PENDING FEDERAL RULING

Schooner Lay at Marine Department Wharf After West Coast Seizure; Her Release Now Is Conditional to Final Ruling of Ottawa Authoritites, It Is Stated.

The power schooner Chakawana was released this morning on a deposit made by her owners, and pending the decision of the Federal authorities in the matter.

The Chakawana was seized some months ago by Customs officers following alleged liquor carriage in local waters. A considerable quantity of liquor was taken from the boat here when she was tied up to the Marine Department's wharf, where she has lain since.

The Chakawana is a fair-sized schooner and had a crew of five men on board at the time of her seizure. Now she is released, her owners having lodged a deposit and agreeing to wait the judgment of the Federal authorities on the case.

RED DEER GRAVE OF EARLY MAMMALS

Curious Remains Have Made Valley Famous For Scientific Research

Camrose, Alta., Oct. 1. — Professor Sternberg, a palaeontologist working in the interests of the Victoria Museum, Ottawa, has been directing the work of obtaining fossils in the Valley of the Red Deer River. The work of Mr. Stornberg is more particularly connected with the search for the fossilized remains of dinosaurs for which the valley of the Red Deer has become famous.

Comparatively few people are aware of the extent and the scientific importance of the vast animal graveyard which nature has preserved in parts of the valley of the Red Deer River in Alberta he said in an address here recently. The speaker stated that this valley embraces the richest known deposits in the whole world of the remains of the dinosaurs. Some two hundred species of these animals are known to have existed in the primeval ages as proved by discoveries in various parts of the world. The Alberta field has made a very considerable contribution to the knowledge already obtained regarding those gigantic animals. As showing the scientific value of the Red Deer valley deposits it was stated that prior to 1912, when the work of discovery was commenced in that area, there was only one species of the Duckhill Dinosaur known. Now eleven species, at least, are known to have existed.

AGE OF REPTILES

The speaker explained that the dinosaurs were the dominant type of animal life in the "Age of Reptiles" which has been calculated to have lasted for nine millions of years and which period of the world's history is conservatively estimated to have closed three milliou years ago. At that time a great inland sea extended east of the Rocky Mountains from the Arctic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico. In this region grew enormous quantities of aquatic or swamp plants providing abundant food for the many species of dinosaurs then existing. Other species were flesh eaters, preying upon the animal life of the region and possible also upon their vegetarian dinosaur cousins. The reason for the disappearance of these strange animals is veiled in mystery and can only be left to conjecture. Probably their elimination was due either to the extreme old age of the orders or perhaps to the changing climatic conditions and the consequent change in the nature of the food supply.

The popular conception of the size of the dinosaurs seems to be that they were gigantic animals, but this is not true of all the species, as their sizes varied from that of the common house cat to creatures of one hundred feet or more in height and of corresponding bulk. Some were built heavily and slow of movement while others were swift in action. Some had aquatic habits while others seldom or even entered the water. All the species had four legs and some were web-footed. Some had long necks and small heads, while others had short necks and large heads. In some species the skin was thin and smooth, in others the body covering was almost impenetrable, and further protected by flint-hard bony projections.

DIFFICULT WORK

The work of obtaining fossil specimens of dinosaur skeletons is at best difficult, and in many instances hazardous. To discover these remains requires perserverance. Each square foot of the exposed fossil-bearing strata must be carefully examined and when a specimen is found great care must be taken to safeguard against breakage or other injury. Canada, and especially Alberta, is contributing in a large measure to the present-day knowledge of phehistoric animal life upon the earth, and especially with regard to those creatures designated as dinosaurs. What the future may reveal through additional discoveries in other fields in the Province of Alberta can only be determined as time passes.

PREMIER TO HAVE ALL B.C. AUDIENCE ON RADIO SATURDAY

Mackenzie King Will Speak to Whole Province From Vancouver Meeting

Premier Mackenzie King will speak to the people of Victoria over the radio Saturday night.

This announcement was made to-day by W. M. Ivel, Liberal candidate in this city, after consultation by telegraph with the managers of the Premier's party.

The Premier was booked to speak at a meeting for the whole of the Lower Mainland in Vancouver Saturday night. It was planned to have him speak in Victoria as well, but because the next day is Sunday, for him to come here to speak Monday night would mean the loss of between two and three days and seriously interfere with his efforts to cover the whole of Canada before election day. At midnight Saturday, at the close of the Vancouver meeting, the Premier will leave for Edmonton on his way East to speak in the principal centres of the Maritime Provinces.

The Premier's speech Saturday night, and, in fact, the whole Vancouver meeting, starting at 8 o'clock, will be broadcasted over the whole of British Columbia by the powerful CNRV station on Lulu Island. By this means he will be brought into speaking contact with practically every community in the Province.

It will be the first time that the Premier of Canada has addressed the people of the whole Province by radio.

Liberal headquarters for the Victoria campaign are being opened at 720 Yates Street, next to the Metropolis Hotel, Mr. Ivel announced to-day.

To qualify for voting in the forthcoming municipal elections, householders and license-holders must affix their names to the city voters' list some time before the end of the month, according to an announcement from the City Hall yesterday. The names of property holders appear on the list annually. Registration may be made at the City Clerk's office.

Nearly 1,200 names have been added to the Federal voters' list since the opening of the register stations in the Victoria Electoral District, according to an announcement from the office of the returning officer, H. Alan Maclean. The additional list totals 1,193, Mr. Maclean states. These names will be affixed to the old provincial voters' list and must be looked for there on polling day. The registration ofices closed yesterday.

A dance is announced to take place in the Metchosin Hall, by the hall committee, on Monday, October 5, under arrangement with Mrs. George Simpson and a special three-piece orchestra. Refreshments will be served and a good time is assured. The superintenden of the Dominion Experimental Station at Sydney, B. C., says that a rotation of wheat, timothy and clover hay and roots has much to recommend it. Soil at the station varies somewhat in type, but for the most part is heavy. The Winter wheat is sown during September. The seeding of the timothy is done by the grass seeder attached to the drill at the time of seeding the wheat. Six pounds of timothy is sown per acre, and in February ten pounds of red clover and four pounds alsike clover are sown broadcast per acre. The rotation is one, remarks the superintendent that appeals to dairymen.

PURE POLITICS OLIVER CALLS POOLEY CHARGE

Premier Defends Destruction of North Vancouver Documents Against Attack

Tories do Not Want Papers But Seek Only to Embarrass Government, He Says

In demanding the production of North Vancouver election documents, which they well know to have been destroyed, Conservative leaders in British Columbia are merely seeking to influence the result of the Federal election campaign now under way, Premier Oliver charges in a statement issued to-day. The Premier declares emphatically that the documents in question were destroyed by Government officials without his knowledge but in accordance with the law. Conservative leaders, he asserts, did not really want these papers, but preferred to make it appear that the Government was seeking to conceal something. Mr. Oliver's statement followed an attack on him last night by R. H. Pooley, provincial Conservative leader.

Mr. Oliver's statement follows:

"I noticed in The Vancouver Province of September 29 and in The Colonist of this morning some alleged criticisms of myself in connection with the destruction of North Vancouver election documents, the inference being that I, as Premier, or the Government of which I am the head, have been guilty of some wrongful conduct.

"First let me say that any knowledge I have of North Vancouver election matters is of the most casual nature, acquired from reading newspaper items. I have no specific knowledge of the allegations upon which the petition is based.

"Second, I had no knowledge whatever previous to September 21 that the Government, or any of its officials, were in possession of any documents required by the petitioners in the North Vancouver election case.

NOT CONSULTED

"Third, I had no knowledge of the destruction of the documents in question until after they had been destroyed. I was not consulted or advised in respect to the destruction of these papers and upon making inquiries this morning from the Deputy Provincial Secretary (in whose custody these documents were and whose duty it was to destroy them according to law, and who obeyed the law on the subject), I am advised that he did not consult any of the Ministers of the Crown, but did consult the law officers of the Crown, and on their advice, did carry out the law.

"Fourth, late in the evening of September 21, in conversation with the Provincial Secretary, I mentioned that I had heard or read that an application was to be made to the court for an order in connection with these election papers. I was then informed that all the papers pertaining to the General Election of 1920 had been destroyed as required by the Statute. At this time I did not know when the application for a court order would be made; I was, however, impressed with the thought that the Court should be advised of the non-existence of the papers in question and on September 22 I wrote to Mr. Bryan, M.P.P., Mr. Douglas Armour and Mr. J. W. deB. Farris, apprising them of the non-existence of the papers. I think it was the next noonday, the twenty-third, that I met Mr. Armour on the Causeway, and I thought he would not have received my letter of the day before, so I advised him orally of the non-existence of the election documents and he said that an application had been made to the Court that morning and that an order had been made.

WILL MEET ATTACK

"As far as I am personally concerned, the foregoing is a full and accurate statement. If I am to blame for not knowing all that is in the minds of my political opponents, I must accept such blame with thankfulness. I do not want to know all they have in mind and I feel sure that when they give voice to what they have in mind, I will be able to meet it as successfully in the future as I have in the past.

"Mr. Pooley asked what is the purpose of the Premier's voluntary statement at this time and my answer is—I wondered why the Opposition, or more correctly speaking, the counsel for the petitioners, had waited until after the expiry of the time allowed by the law for the retention of the documents by the Deputy Provincial Secretary before making their application and considering the eminent counsel employed by the petitioners, I could not think that they were either ignorant or careless, but that rather acting in the interest of the Opposition, they preferred to have a cry that the documents had been destroyed and their efforts to obtain justice had been thwarted by an unprincipled Government rather than to have the documents themselves produced in Court for whatever they might be worth.

TO AFFECT ELECTION

"The value of such a cry sprung as a sensation a day or two before the voting in the general election now pending might make some political capital for the Conservative Party, and my purpose in making the voluntary statement I did was in part to forestall such a move on the part of my political opponents, and partly to draw the fire of my good friend the leader of the Opposition, which I have succeeded in doing.

"Mr. Pooley asks: 'Did any one ever hear, in a British country, that there was a statutory or any other kind of a mandate to destroy the very evidence which the election petition concerns.' Well, I have heard it said that 'ignorance of the law excuses no one,' but possibly Mr. Pooley may think that lawyers like himself are excepted.

"Here is the very wording of the law as it was placed on the Statute Book of British Columbia by a Conservative Government in 1904:

"'Chapter 17, Section 158 (1) The Deputy Provincial Secretary shall retain for a year all documents relating to an election forwarded to him in pursuance of this Act by a Returning Officer, and then, unless otherwise directed by an order of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, or of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, shall cause them to be destroyed.'

ASKS POOLEY'S STAND

"There has been no change in the substance of the law since 1904 and now that I have answered some of Mr. Pooley's questions, may I, in turn, ask him a few. If you applied to and were refused by the Speaker at the last session of the Legislature for an order of the Speaker, what was the purport of the order for which you applied?

"Under what section of the Statute did you make your application?

"Did you support your application by evidence under oath as required by Section 130?

"Having, as you assert, been refused an order by the Speaker, why did you not make an application to the Court for an order within the time limit set by the Statute for the retention of the documents by the Deputy Provincial Secretary?

"What authority was there for the Deputy Provincial Secretary to retain the documents in question after the time specified by the Statute?

"What authority is there in existence under which the Government or any member thereof could rightfully interfere with the Deputy Provincial Secretary performing the Statutory duties placed upon him by the Statute?"

APPEALS FOR LESS ASSESSMENT, LEAST IN TWENTY YEARS

The appeals against taxation and assessed valuations on city property are fewer this year than they have been since 1908, according to figures obtained from the City Hall this morning. Mayor J. Carl Pendray, commenting on this situation, said: "This fact shows beyond any doubt the greater faith Victoria's citizens have in their city."

The majority of the cases brought before the aldermanic tribunal for the consideration of assessments and property values were left standing, or were reserved for the future consideration of the court of revision. Some of the properties were given reductions, but there were none of any great amount.

At the tax sale this morning eight more properties went under the hammer, netting a profit of $2,195.90. Yesterday 14 properties sold for $5,405.91. This brings the total of cash obtained from the tax sale to $7,601. The highest price paid today was $458, but the amounts in many cases were little lower than this one, so that a fair average was maintained.

ELEVEN B.C. FRUIT MEN FACE CHARGE

Vast Conspiracy to Defraud Producers and Buyers is Alleged

Prosecutions Follow Investigations of Lewis Duncan

Vancouver, Oct. 1—The Grand Jury here to-day returned a true bill against fifty-three British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba fruit and produce dealers for alleged infractions of the Criminal Code and Combines Investigation Act.

J. G. McRuer, K.C., of Toronto, representing the Department of Justice, immediately asked that the British Columbia accused should be arraigned Friday morning before the Assize Court, to which J. D. McPhee, their counsel, consented.

PLEAD FRIDAY

The British Columbia defendants, George N. Snow, K. N. Gibson, J. W. Dilworth, Mutual (Vancouver) Limited, Robert Forbes Company Limited, Mutual Fruit Company Limited, and Staples Fruit Company Limited, will be asked to plead at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Failure of these defendants to appear will result in application for bench warrants, Mr. McRuer announced.

A. McLeod Sinclair, K.C. of Calgary, is due here Friday night, and a proposal will be made to him that he appear for defendants from other provinces, in which event warrants will not be issued against these accused.

E. P. Davis, K.C., has been retained as counsel for the defence, and separate trials may be sought for the accused. Should this be granted the hearing would be indefinitely protracted.

Charging a vast conspiracy to defraud the fruit producers and fruit buyers of Western Canada, Federal Department of Justice officials late yesterday laid 863 criminal charges against forty-two fruit selling firms and eleven individuals in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

IN ASSIZE COURT

The charges were lodged before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Assize Court and handed by him to the Grand Jury. It is expected that it will be several days before the Grand Jury returns a bill.

Without any previous intimation the prosecution was made public by his lordship during trial before a petit jury of C. J. Crossley for theft of an automobile.

No arrests will be made until after the Grand Jury has decided whether accused should stand trial before a petit jury.

FOLLOW INVESTIGATIONS

The prosecutions are the outcome of investigations by Lewis Duncan, a Toronto lawyer, of fruit growing and marketing conditions throughout Canada.

Mutual (Vancouver) Limited, was charged in consequence of Mr. Duncan's report, but the case against it was dismissed in police court.

Department of Justice officers expect that, by joining all accused in the one indictment, evidence relating to the various accused companies and individuals can be adduced against them.

The investigation and gathering of evidence in preparation for the unexpected surprise sprung by crown officers on Wednesday have been proceeding secretly for a year by special Government agents.

Alleged discoveries by Government auditors, who examined books of the accused companies, will be submitted in evidence to the Grand Jury.

Mr. McRuer will be assisted by Mr. W. Stuart Lane of Vancouver.

Washington Infield Regarded As Finest

Two Greatest Infields in Baseball Will Meet in World's Series; Pittsburg Infielders Hit Better But Have Not Experience nor Steady Smooth-working Machine of Washington; Senators Rise to Their Best in Emergency

New York, Oct. 1.—The foremost infield combinations of present-day major league ranks will bear much of the brunt of the world's series batde.

Defensively, the Senators—Judge, Stanley Harris, Peckinpaugh and Bludge—have a more consistent record behind them, besides the advantage of having had their mettle tested in the face of last Fall's championship conflict, but on the attack the advantage is with the Pittsburg quartette—Grantham or McInnis at first; Moore at second; Wright at shortstop, and Traynor on third.

Batting records for the season show all five of these Pirates well beyond the .300 mark, all figuring as main cogs in the club's attack, besides measuring up to their defensive responsibilities. Only Judge and his first base understudy, J. Harris, are in the charmed hitting circle among the Senators, but the averages do not reveal the ability of coming through in the pinch as possessed by Stan. Harris and Peckinpaugh. Their bats were mightiest in the critical moments of the last world's series.

Washington has the older and more experienced combination, steady, smooth-working and always rising to its best in the emergency. If the Senators are to be given any edge over their rivals at all they are entitled to it on these points in the opinion of most observers.

The keystone combination of Peckinpaugh and Harris has few rivals in the game to-day for smartness and all round ability. Bluege's remarkable ground-covering ability helps his pair set a double play pace unexcelled in either league. Last Fall the Senators set a new world's series record with ten double plays.

The Pirates' infield array are younger and more spectacular, particularly on its left wing, where Wright and Traynor are a sparkling pair, but at times they also have shown erratic tendencies.

Wright, incidentally, has led all his team mates in driving in runs for two successive seasons.

Comparisons on the right side of the infield, however, are not favorable to the Pirates, for Moore does not measure up to the versatile standard set by Harris, while neither McInnis nor Grantham is as polished in handling his position as Judge. Rawlings will not be able to play at second base, owing to a broken leg.

Sons of England to Play James Island at Central Grounds

The First Division football match between the Sons of England and James Island will be played at Central Park on Saturday afternoon and not at Work Point as previously announced.

The grounds at Work Point are being regraded and are not fit for play. The Lower Island Football Association considered staging a double-header at the Royal Athletic Park, but the James Island players have to make connections for their return to the Island, and cannot remain in town long enough for the double-header.

Makeshift Team Of Champions Beaten By Boston Red Sox

Washington Had Only One Regular in Line-up at Close of Game Yesterday

New York, Oct. 1.—Three games separated the four second division clubs in the National League to-day giving the Phillies, the present tail-enders, the mathematical possibility of climbing into sixth place by the close of the season on Sunday.

Philadelphia's second straight triumph over the Robins yesterday, 6-4, kept Brooklyn from unseating the Braves from the fifth rung. The Robins have won but two of their last seventeen games.

But one American League game was played yesterday, the Red Sox winning from a makeshift club of the Senators, 5-4. The end of the contest found but one Washington regular in the lineup.

The world champions continue with their series at Boston while the Indians will cross bats with the White Sox and the Tigers battle with the Browns in their last series of the year.

Harry Wills Feels Great to Know He Has Dempsey Signed

Chicago, Oct. 1—Challenger Harry Wills left last night for New York, much pleased over the signing of a match for the world's heavyweight boxing championship. His manager, Paddy Mullins, said that the agreement for Wills to box at Newark, N. J., sometime within the next three weeks, against an opponent to be selected, would be carried out, but Wills would make no other matches before the Dempsey contest. He announced Wills had been signed to box an exhibition at Detroit for an American Legion benefit on October 9.

RIFLE SHOOTING

All local riflemen are advised that there will be practice at the Heals Ranges on Saturday afternoon. Transportation will be provided and all intending to take part are asked to meet at the Bank of Novia Scotia, Yates and Douglas.

Big Entry List Is Expected For Golf Competition at O.B.

Challoner & Mitchell Trophy to be Played For; Qualifying Round Saturday

One of the most popular competitions of the year at the Victoria Golf Club is for the Challoner & Mitchell Cup.

The qualifying round for this trophy will be played on Saturday October 3. The round will be 18 holes medal play and the competitors will be allowed their full handicaps, limited to 24. The sixteen players returning the lowest net scores will play off match play, for possession of the trophy for one year. An additional prize will be given by the club which the winner will retain.

In case of a tie for the last place qualifying, a full round will be played to decide who qualifies, excepting handicaps are equal, when one or more holes only will be played. The competitors other than the first sixteen will be divided into flights, according to the number of players.

The drawing for the cup and other flights will be made as soon as the qualifying round is finished and the result will appear in the press the following day.

TO PLAY OFF QUICKLY

It is hoped that the first round and possibly the second round in all flights will be played on October 4, as it is necessary that all the rounds be played off as soon as possible as other competitions are to follow.

All matches will be eighteen holes. In playing off the flights three-quarters of the difference in handicaps will be allowed.

In addition to the prize to be awarded the winner of the cup, prizes will be given to the runner-up, and the winners of all other flights. A prize will also be awarded to the competitor making the lowest net score in the qualifying round.

The entrance fee will be $1.00 and post entries are to be made.

The trophy, which is a very handsome one, was presented to the club in 1912 by Messrs Challoner and Mitchell, now known as Mitchell and Duncan and has been played for each year since then, with the exception of 1916-17-18 during the Great War. It was won in 1912 by R. N. Hincks, 1913 by Jack Rithet, 1914 by J. G. Colville, 1915 by George Raymond, 1919 by Biggarstaff Wilson, 1921 by L. H. Hardie, 1922 by H. O. Kirkham and 1923 by J. R. Waghorn. Ken Raymur was the winner last year and Harold Wilson was runner-up, the first flight was won by Art Beasley and W. H. MacInnes won the second flight. Hon. T. D. Pattullo made the best score in the qualifying round his score being gross 89, handicap 24, net 65.

One of the reasons the competition is so popular is that the full handicaps, limited to 24, are allowed so that the player with a high handicap has an equal chance with one with a low handicap.

McKechnie Gathers Title After Three Years As Manager

Pittsburg Leader Was Baseball Nomad Before Landing Present Post

Was Great Third Baseman at One Time; Played Alongside Everett Scott

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 1—Bill McKechnie, a third basemen of parts in his day and a native of Pittsburg, has attained a national league pennant after approximately three seasons as a manager.

McKechnie is a product of the sandlots and a much traveled ball player. His life has been entangled with several of baseball's squabbles. Early life found him playing third for the Butler and Washington teams in his home state, and in 1907 he was purchased by the Pirates, making his first appearance in the majors at about the time Heinie Zimmerman cropped up at second base for the Chicago Cubs. Babe Adams also made his bow that season.

In 1908 McKechnie was transferred to Canton, O., and a year later appeared with Wheeling, where he played remarkably and was adjudged the best man at his position in the Central League. In 1910 he rejoined the Pirates and played very little, the same holding for 1911 when the presence of Jack Miller, Bobby Byrne and Hans Wagner prevented any aspirant from breaking into the infield.

PLAYED WITH SCOTT

St. Paul received him in 1912 and in 1913 the Braves drafted him. He played only one game in Boston and drifted to the New York Americans. Once again he went to St. Paul on August 22, 1913, to play alongside a youthful shortstop who was destined to create records in the majors—Everett Scott of the Red Sox and Yankees, and now with the team that will fight McKechnie's band in the world's series, the Senators.

The next year the present Pirate manager was among several who jumped to the Federal League. He proved to be one of the organization's greatest infielders with Indianapolis. That year he batted .305. In 1915 the team was transferred to Newark and McKechnie succeeded Bill Phillips as manager and won the pennant.

Another season saw the collapse of the Federals and for a time McKechnie was out of work. He finally went to the Giants in a settlement which Harry Sinclair handled. In New York he played brilliantly, but the Giants lost eight straight battles, only to swing through the West for the first time and capture every game, with the mauling bat of their third baseman working overtime.

HERO OF NEW YORK

Returning to the polo grounds McKechnie was the hero of New York, only to be traded to Cincinnati two days later along with Christy Mathewson and Eddie Roush for Charley Herzog and Wade Killifer. At Cincinnati he alternated with Heinie Groh until he suffered a broken hand in the second game of the 1917 season, and was out of play for almost the entire schedule.

Hugo Bezdek, now Penn State athletic director, but at that time the Pirate manager, obtained him in 1918 and McKechnie participated in every game. He left baseball in 1919 to enter business. The call of the diamond was too strong and he was back in uniform in 1920, the year that Harold (Pie) Traynor appeared on the Pirate squad. Traynor came fast and McKechnie was sent to St. Paul the next year, to be called in 1922 as coach and assistant manager to George Gibson, recently named manager of the Cubs. He succeeded Gibson as Pittsburg manager on June 30 of that season, and has remained in control since.

FAILED BEFORE

Three times before this season, the Pirates, under McKechnie, have been pennant threats, but no more. Each season they have faltered in the stretch, usually in tackling their main rivals, but this year it has been a different story. McKechnie, with Fred Clarke as his adviser, has kept the Pirates to the fore and when the crucial test came with the champion Giants not long ago, the Pittsburgers came through triumphantly.

Scottish Battler Wins His Initial Battles in States

New York, Oct. 1.—Tommy Milligan of Scotland, British welterweight and middleweight champion, last night won a ten-round judges' decision over Morirs Schlaifer of Omaha at the Queensboro Stadium. Milligan weighed 153 pounds and Schlaifer 155.

Basketball League Will Hold Meeting at Y.M.C.A. To-morrow

All delegates to the Victoria Basketball Association are requested to attend a meeting to be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. when further plans will be made for the coming season. Any rural teams that would like to enter any of the leagues conducted by the association is invited to send representatives to the meeting.

Defending Champion Beaten

MRS. DOROTHY CAMPBELL HURD

Mrs. Hurd passed out of the U. S. ladies' golf championship at St. Louis yesterday when she was beaten by Mrs. Letts of Chicago. Mrs. Hurd won the title last year from a fine field. As Dorothy Campbell she won the championship in 1909 and 1910. She came back after fourteen years, which is a record performance in women's golf.

One Canadian Lady Wins While Other Is Just Defeated

Alexa Fraser Plays Great Golf and Beats Her Opponent at St. Louis

Ada McKenzie Carries Glenna Collett to Eighteenth Hole; Champion Beaten

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—A new woman's golf champion will reign in the United States this year. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Philadelphia, who won the title last year, was defeated yesterday in the third round of the championship meet at the St. Louis Country Club by Mrs. F. C. Letts, Chicago, four and two.

The former champion weakened in a terrific wind and rain storm which swept the links during the second half of the eighteen-hole match, while Mrs. Letts, formerly Western titleholder, shot even par in the elemental disturbance. It was a storm to make strong hearts weaken, but the women fought on gamely, three of the eight matches going to the home green, two sloshing to the seventeenth green, and two to the sixteenth, while only one ended in midfield.

This one-sided action was won by Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, who defeated Helen Tillotson of Toledo, six and five, bringing the former Ohio champion into contact to-day with the conqueror of Mrs. Hurd. Miss Fordyce shot two better than par on the first nine and gained a lead of five up, so that she did not have to extend herself on the next four holes to win.

ADA LOSES TO GLENNA

The most spectacular match to reach the home green was an international one between the Canadian champion, Ada Mackenzie of Toronto and Glenna Collett of Providence, a former American and present French champion. The American won the struggle by a narrow margin of one, scoring one under par for eighteen holes to do it.

The Rhode Island girl was out in thirty-seven, only two above men's par, but gained a lead of only one up as the Canadian totalled thirty-nine including two birdies. Miss Collet got only one birdie on this nine, but she captured an eagle three on the 340-yard eighth, one of the most difficult on the links.

Miss Mackenzie evened affairs by shooting an eagle three on the 400-yard eleventh and won the next two holes in pars to be two up.

Then the storm broke. Miss Collett snared a birdie on the 406-yard fourteenth and a par five on the 487-yard fifteenth to square the match. She also won the short sixteenth with a par and by halving the last two holes in five got the victory.

ALEXA STILL IN RING

Another international affair was that in which Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser of Ottawa, Ont., defeated Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, two and one, by scoring five birdies, three of them during the storm.

Mrs. Fraser, by this victory, won the right to meet Mary Browne of Los Angeles, who by scoring only one above par on each nine yesterday eliminated Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn of Chicago, one uu.

TICKET SCALPERS FILL WASHINGTON; JOHNSON STARTS

Washington, Oct. 1. — World series ticket scalpers were driven from Clark Griffith Stadium Wednesday by club officials when they were discovered offering fans from $10 to $30 for the cards entitling the holder to tickets to the Washington games.

Incensed over the openness with which the scalpers were violating the rules of the baseball park, Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Club, ordered the scalpers out of the grounds, but they continued their operations in the street. Orders were then issued to the men in the booths not to honor cards presented by apparent scalpers.

Walter Johnson and Stanley Coveleskie will work in the order named in the first two games in Pittsburg, Manager Harris said yesterday, with Reuther, Ferguson and Zachary getting the assignments in Washington.

In what order the last three would get the call Harris was not prepared to say.

Marberry would be depended on for most of the relief pitching, the manager said.

Wednesday Soccer League Will Open With Two Matches

Curtain Goes up on Mid-week Soccer Oct. 14; Five Teams Enter League

Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the Wednesday Football League held last evening to open the season with a double-header on Wednesday, October 14. The games will be as follows:

Kirkham's vs. United Services at Beacon Hill Park.

Hudson's Bay vs. Tillicums at Central Park.

Rennie and Taylor's a bye.

Interest is particularly keen in Wednesday football circles this year. The league has added one team to its strength, Kirkham's make the fifth entry, while Rennie and Taylor's have taken over the franchise of the Teamsters, who won the championship last year.

All team managers are busy moulding teams that will battle for the Pendray Cup, emblematic of the title.

F. B. Richardson was elected president of the league at last night's meeting, and S. Thomas will carry on as secretary. Every effort will be made to have the games of such a calibre as to attract hundreds of spectators each week. In the past the Wednesday League has been well patronized.

DUFF TRIMS MITCHELL

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—"Oakland" Jimmy Duff defeated Pinkey Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, in a ten-round non-titular bout here last night.

Danny and Jackie Fight For Colored Bantamweight Title

Mascott Unable to Fight To-morrow Night and Newman Takes His Place

Both Boys Are Real Scrappers and Rest of Card Will be Extremely Good

Jackie Newman, dusky lad from Vancouver, who with Danny Edwards claims the colored bantamweight championship, will settle the point at the Arena to-morow night. Newman, who was previously matched here for the carnival show in June to decide the issue, steps in to take the place of Billy Mascot of Portland, whose manager wired last night cancelling the bout through sickness.

Under ordinary circumstances this would have given the Victoria Boxing Association considerable cause for worry—but with Newman on hand they do not feel their card is weakened at all. The two colored boys are fighting rivals and evenly matched. Newman's stock went right up when he figured in the main events at Seattle in the milk fund bouts against Frankie Grendelto, the Hollywood sheik. Since then he has been going strong. He is recognized as one of the first bantams in Western Canada and is getting his wish when he meets Edwards.

WORKS OUT TO-NIGHT

Edwards, by the way, arrives to-night and will work out at the Metropolis, where the boys have been doing their stuff all the week.

The card as it stands now is one of the best offered in Victoria, the promoters claim. Every bout but the Telfer-Fielding semi-windup is an inter-city affair, and the semi-windup they claim is worthy of a headliner.

Here's the revised card:

Bout, No. 1, four rounds, 145-pound class—Arthur Spruston, Ladysmith vs. Young Viter, Leavenworth, Wash.

Bout No. 2, four rounds, 122-pound class—Danny Pascoe, Victoria, vs. Charlie Genaro, Manila.

Bout No. 3, four rounds, 118 pounds —Dave Lewis, Victoria, vs. Gordon Wallace, Vancouver.

Bout, No. 4, four rounds, 165 pounds—J. A. McAllister, Victoria, vs. Eddie Gross, Ballard, Wash.

Bout No. 5, semi-windup, six rounds; 125 pounds—Andy Telfer, Navy, vs. Tommy Fielding, Victoria.

Bout No. 6, main event, 10 rounds, colored bantams championship — Danny Edwards, Oakland, Cal., vs. Jackie Newman, Edmonton.

Veterans' Eleven to Workout To-night; to Select Team Later

Cars which will carry football fans to Ladysmith on Sunday will leave the City Hall at 10 o'clock in the morning. A number of fans are going up the Island to see the Veterans play against Ladysmith. Any other fans who have not made reservations for the trip are advised to get in touch with De Gruchy, secretary of the club, at once.

The Veterans will hold a workout to-night at 7.30 o'clock at the Veterans of France. The team for the game with Ladysmith will be picked following the workout.

W. G. Stone, president of the Veterans' Football Club, will attend a meeting of the Pacific Coast League in Vancouver on Saturday.

Milking Cows Makes Nilles Strong and He Wins Fight Fast

Paris, Oct. 1.—When Marcel Nilles, former heavyweight champion of France, suffered his fourteenth consecutive knockout last July, the verdict of the boxing fans and promoters was "back to the farm." Nilles actually did retire to the farm and engaged in harvesting, milking cows, the simple life and hard work.

He returned to Paris last evening and knocked out Jack Taylor of Omaha, Neb., negro light-heavyweight, in the second round of a bout which was to have gone fifteen rounds. Nilles simply smothered Taylor with a rain of blows to the body and head and when the negro was helpless Nilles finished him with a right to the jaw. Taylor was counted out by the referee, and even money that he would put the Frenchman to sleep inside of three rounds.

DEMPSEY GIVES EXHIBITION

Cleveland, Oct. 1.—Tommy Freeman, Hot Springs welterweight, won a technical knockout over Al. Walthers, Canton, in a scheduled ten-round bout here last night, featuring a card on which heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey gave an exhibition.

Walthers quit in the fifth round because of a broken hand.

Dempsey boxed two rounds with Nick Newman, local heavyweight, and gave two two-round exhibitions with Marty Cutler and Ray Newman, his sparring partners.

Dempsey Will Meet Burke Thanksgiving Day at New Orleans

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—Frankie Edwards, New Orleans fight promoter, announced here last night that he had completed negotiations for a ten-round decision fight between Jack Dempsey and Martin Burke at New Orleans Thanksgiving Day. The bout is said to be in line with the champion's announced intention of engaging in two or three preliminary fights before meeting Harry Wills, the negro challenger.

JACKIE NEWMAN

Jockey Stakes Are Won By Tatra With St. Germans Second

Brighter London and Twelve Pointer Are Favorites For Cambridgeshire

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 1—Mrs. Harold Cayzer's Tatra, by Lemberg out of Whitetor, to-day won the famous Jockey Club stakes, valued at £2,000 with extras, over one and three-fourth miles.

Lord Astor's St. Germans, was second and Somerville Tattersall's Hurstwood, third. Four ran.

The valuable Jockey Club Stakes, feature of the Newmarket first October meeting, is one of the original "ten thousand pounders," and though its monetary value has been cut down it still brings to the winner something like $25,000.

The great Isinglass was the first winner of the stakes when it was instituted in 1894.

Tatra's win to-day maintains the record of three-year-old victories in the race, which is for three-year-olds and up. Three-year-olds have won it every year since 1915.

London, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press Cable)—The betting for the Cambridgeshire Stakes, run at Newmarket on Wednesday, October 28, a distance of one mile and one furlong is announced as follows:

Brighter London and Twelve Pointer, last year's winner, 100-6 against; Amethestine and Stolen Fruit 20-1 against; Blue Pete and Sansovino 22-1 against; Blanc Mange 33-1 against.

London, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press Cable)—In the latest London betting for the Cesarewitch Stakes, run at Newmarket on Wednesday, October 14, a distance of two and a quarter miles, Bellman and Maddelleu at 100-8 against have replaced Vionnet for popular support, the latter being 13-1 against. Other prices are Winalot 18-1 against; Dumas, Confirmation, Tourmont and Inkle 20-1 against; Orousel 22-1 against; Crewe and Forsett 25-1 against; Ladbadens, 50-1 against.

WON TWO STAKE EVENTS

Columbus, Oct. 1—S. F. Palin, Indianapolis horseman, won major honors at yesterday's grand circuit races by taking the two stake events of the day's card. With Braden Ruler he was a straight heat winner in the Columbus Evening Dispatch $1,200 stake for 2:15 pacers and with Theodore Guy he was a straight heat winner in the Ohio State Journal stake for 2:05 pacers.

One class event, the 2:08 pace completed the day's card. It was a split heat event, Hollyroot Volo, second choice to Jeanette Royal won the first and third heats, while a break cost him the second which went to Eli Direct. Jeanette Royal was never a serious contender.

KILLS HIMSELF OVER HORSE

Latonia, Ky., Oct. 1. — Brooding over the loss of one of his horses as a result of the claiming war at the Latonia race track, Christopher Kirschbaum, thirty-five, race horse owner and trainer, ended his life with a bullet yesterday.

"I am tired of it all," he wrote in a letter addressed to his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Kirschbaum.

Kirschbaum's body was found near the Latonia track. His home was at Oakland, Calif. He was well known on race courses throughout the country.

Three Victoria And One Colwood Player Reach Semi-finals

Mrs. Philbrick, Mrs. Parry, Mrs. Paterson and Mrs. Abell Are Playing Off To-day

Most Matches Yesterday Decided by Good Margins; Finals To-morrow

Mrs. Philbrick, Mrs. Hew Paterson and Mrs. Walter Parry of the Victoria Golf Club, while Mrs. Abell of the Colwood Golf Club, are to-day playing in the semi-finals of the ladies' city golf championship at the Colwood links. These ladies won their matches in the second round yesterday.

The Fates may be kind and bring into the finals a representative of each of the contending clubs. Mrs. Philbrick, the defending champion, is paired with Mrs. Parry, captain of the Victoria Club, while Mrs. Abell is meeting Mrs. Paterson. Mrs. Philbrick, who again reigns as the favorite in the tournament, will have a hard match on her hands, but it is expected that she will conquer Mrs. Parry. The outcome of the round between Mrs. Abell and Mrs. Paterson is doubtful, but Colwood is pulling strongly for their sole survivor in the tournament.

MATCHES NOT CLOSE

Yesterday's play in the championship flight did not produce any close matches. Mrs. Paterson's victory by 2 and 1 over Mrs. Wilding was the narrowest margin of the day. Mrs. Philbrick won easily over Mrs. Pocock, while Mrs. Parry had no trouble defeating Mrs. Lambert. Mrs. Abell disposed of Mrs. Hutchinson by 3 and 2.

The finals of the championship and first flights will be played to-morrow. The second, third and fourth flights saw the semi-finals decided yesterday, and the finalists are playing off to-day. The fifth flight has already been decided.

Yesterday's results were as follows:

LEWIS AN EASY WINNER

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Ed "Strangler Lewis, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, won two out of three falls in a match with Mike Romano, here last night.

Montreal, Oct. 1—Charges that the Dominion Football Association's meeting in Vancouver in September was conducted in an unfair manner," were made by Neil Hepburn, who with F. R. Davies, attended the meeting as representative of the Province of Quebec Football Association at a meeting here last night when the two delegates made their reports to local football men.

Mr. Hepburn charged that everything was not done in a proper manner and that much of the business was "arranged at informal conferences of delegates on the train before the actual commencement of the meeting."

He also charged that the report of President Easton was a "magnificent electioneering speech to retain the next place of the association at Winnipeg." Mr. Hepburn proposed a resolution that the P.Q.F.A. withdraw from the association. This, however, was not acted upon.

Mr. Davis, the other delegate, said he was satisfied with the manner in which Vancouver sessions were conducted.

Mishap to Officer Renders Warrant For Johnson Void

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—Inability of Inspector Forbes Cruickshanks of the British Columbia provincial police to leave his home here where he is confined with an infected foot will result in a further delay in the removal of T. H. Johnson, recaptured Seattle jailbreaker, to British Columbia to face trial in connection with the $42,000 Nanaimo bank robbery of December 12 last.

While warrants have been signed both by Baron Byng, and President Coolidge, for Johnson's delivery to Inspector Cruickshanks, both are useless at present as the latter is unable to leave his bed. The Canadian order has been returned to Ottawa and the Federal authorities requested to issue new papers, and it is believed that it will be necessary for the United States authorities to secure a new warrant from Washington.

SEEKS FIGHTS IN U.S.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Lucien Vienz, lightweight champion of Europe, sailed for New York yesterday on La Savoie. He no contract for an American fight, but intends to meet all-comers, he said, and establish his right to a bout with Jimmy Goodrich, who has held the world's lightweight title since the retirement of Benny Leonard.

BEER versus BARGAINS

Scene: Lunch Counter, Yates Street

He had all the earmarks of a smart man. You know, he was dressed pretty slick, rolled his own cigarettes, closed his tobacco bag with his teeth and with the Hokus Pokus pass of a magician nipped the end of a match producing forth the sacred flame. After a few gobbles and puffs, he adorned a supercilious smile and said: "Where is this GENERAL WAREHOUSE that you work? Do you keep any good stuff there? I've often thought of coming down to see it, but it's TOO FAR OUT OF THE WAY." "Well," said Filbert Phipps, the man from the GENERAL WAREHOUSE, "We're only a block from the place, come along with me and I'll show you." "Oh, I won't go now," answered the smart man who was thirsting for something besides knowledge. "I am just going over to Esquimalt for a drink!"

Do we keep any good stuff? Not by the bottle, bucket, or barrel. But if it's Dry Goods you want we have $100,000 worth of BARGAINS that we KNOW, we are SURE, we SEE to it, that our prices are far below anything, disregarding all Bargain Sales or so-called price cutting methods.

Write our advertisement so they can understand; here's a Lady writes from Ladysmith for those hose we advertised at 10c per foot and she says: 'Please send 50 feet of Hose with SQUIRTER on the end.' GEORGE HAIN WILL REMAIN IN PRISON

First of Long List of Applications For Habeas Corpus Refused

Application for habeas corpus brought before Chief Justice Hunter in Supreme Court Chambers by Stuart Henderson Wednesday in the case of George Hain, convicted on a charge of having morphine in his possession, was dismissed.

Eighteen further applications are pending, Mr. Henderson stated.

A. D. Macfarlane, appearing for the Crown, suggested that under section 1120 of the Criminal Code power was given to direct further detention of a person accused and that it provided for a rehearing of the case with a view to securing costs.

Referring to sections 1124 and 1125 of the Criminal Code, the Court ruled that the provision in this latter section, providing that in case punishment imposed was less than that by law assigned to the offence, the judge had power on certiorari to give effect to the curative provisions of section 1124 and so uphold the conviction.

Hain was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment, with an additional six months in the event of not paying a $500 fine. He did not pay any fine, and had six months more to serve. He was a Russian and is being held for deportation, but Mr. Henderson claims that he is now a British subject. Failing to get his application allowed, Hain will serve the remaining six months of his sentence at Oakalla.

The first of remaining applications for habeas corpus will be heard before Chief Justice Hunter beginning October 5, it was decided.

Local Rabbits Win at Puyallup

According to word brought back by Capt. Babbington, who has just returned from the exhibition held recently at Puyallup, local rabbit breeders carried off a number of honors at the exhibit.

In the Chinchilla class five animals put in by Russell, P. Barlow, of Sidney, and Miss Hanson, of Keating, won three firsts, and also a second and a third. In the latter classes the rabbits were beaten by the exhibits from here.

In January the Victoria Rabbit Association is putting on an exhibition. It will be held at the same time as the Provincial poultry show is staged in this city.

During the exhibition at the Puyallup, it is pointed out by Capt. Babbington, one stall that specialized in rabbits and sandwiches disposed of 100 pounds of this meat daily.

MAKES TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT IN FORD

R. D. McA. Law Arrives Here; Left St. John, N.B., July 20

After a most eventful motor journey across the continent R. D. McA. Law has arrived in Victoria. He toured the Dominion from St. John, New Brunswick to this city. The visitor is the senior representative in the Maritime provinces of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company. He made the transcontinental trip in a two-door Ford, camping all along the route and visiting the principal cities.

An interesting feature is that Mr. Law pumped up his tires at St. John and made the entire trip of 5,740 miles without changing a tire.

Leaving St. John on July 20 the party motored up the St. John River, thence to Quebec City, by way of Levis. They then went to Montreal and up the Ottawa Valley to the capital. Journeying to Kingston and west to Toronto, later they visited Niagara, returning to Toronto, proceeding to North Bay and Sault Ste. Marie.

At the Soo the motorists crossed in the United States, journeying through the States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. They then turned north to Emerson, Manitoba, and traveled to Winnipeg. From Winnipeg west to Regina many detours had to be taken, and when Regina was reached the party motored to Saskatoon by way of Humboldt.

From this point Mr. Law proceeded to Calgary. The section to Banff was taken over the new road, and then South through the Kootenay to Easton, where the party entered the state of Idaho, continuing South and West to Spokane and Seattle. The party crossed over to Vancouver Island by way of Anacortes.

WESTWARD HO! — Here is Jonathan Foulke, who was an old man when Horace Greeley told the young men to go West. At the advanced age of 108, he finally has heeded Greeley's advice and has "emigrated" from Iowa to Los Angeles. He lived in Iowa nearly 100 years.

Anti-Evolution Meeting in London

London, Oct. 1. — The Dayton evolution trial had a sequel here at a public debate. "Is Evolution True?" Prof. George McReady Price of Union College, Nebraska, was howled down and was unable to complete his speech.

Prof. Price attempted to refute Darwin's theories and claimed that Darwin's disciples had twisted scientific evidence to suit their theories. He suggested apes mght have degenerated from man.

From the beginning he was interrupted frequently until finally about half the audience was on its feet, shouting at the speaker arguing among themselves. A young woman in the balcony kept up a persistent shouting at Price until he sat down. Earl Russell, who presided, then dismissed the meeting with the remark that Price should be allowed to finish his speech.

"Well, I couldn't stand it any longer," shouted the same young woman, who still stood glaring at Price.

(Prof. Price, a geologist, has written several books criticizing scientists' deductions that evolution is proved by palentological evidence. Among his works are "Outlines of Modern Christianity and Modern Science," "Back to the Bible" and "God's Two Books.")

2,000-Year-Old Business Founded In Neolithic Days

(From The Bury St. Edmund's Free Press)

In connection with the query, which is the oldest "firm" in England? a correspondent recently wrote:

It is quite possible that the claim of Mr. Robert Farman, head of the 817-years-old family business of basket-makers at North Walsham, in Norfolk, may be beaten by the modern representatives of an even older craft—the flint knappers of Grimes' Graves, near Brandon.

GRIMES' GRAVES

High up on the heath, in a lonely land of bracken and sandy tracks, where only the stone curlew call and plover pipe, there lies a thin wood of firs, a chain of great pits, open to the skies, grim with the mystery of dead centuries, says the correspondent, who continues: Grimes' Graves tney are called, for were they not dug by Grima, the Devil? It was the Devil, too, who built the great British Hill Fort at Thetford, and put mermaids into a gravel pit at Bury St. Edmund's. He has a lot to answer for.

But it was the flint knappers of B.C. 500 or so—the founder of the present "firm"—who dug Grimes' Graves, and their trade is carried on to-day by men who tap and flake, split and sharpen the flints with all the art of the old Neolithic craftsmen—men, too, who speak a language which, etymologists declare, has its direct root in a Neolithic tongue! No other industry in Britain has been carried on so consistently in one spot, it is doubtful if Europe itself can show a parallel. But it is a poor business.

A century ago flint knapping was a trade whereby a man might make money. Gun flints were ordered for the King's armies by the thousand every week; and the Brandon knappers played pitch and toss with guinea pieces.

DEATH DUST

But to-day it is only African natives who use gun flints, and Spanish and Italian peasants who prefer tinder boxes to matches.

So it is that where once many families earned a good living, now there are but an odd half-dozen or so knappers in all. They work still in the pits, bringing up flints on their heads from the shafts thirty and forty feet deep, flints later to be chipped and flaked in little ill-lit shops, dusty with a dust of death—for knappers die young. Flint dust is fatal to the lungs.

Even so they smile—"Why, lor! This here knappin' ain't what it wuz. Once yew cud make a tidy bit out o' knappin' these here arrer-heads for them collector chaps what come nosin' round. Then some one much a muck on it, and we had ter give it up. Ah! many a one I've knapped and then hed a owd gentleman wi' blue glasses and a white straw hat come peekin' in to tell me as how that were a arrer used by the owd fellers who fust started this here job and the mine. I might ha' towd him that I larned the job from they owd fellers—but that would a bin a pity ter spile his innercence!"

NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

Pains in Back and Legs Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ford, Ontario.—"I had a nervous break-down, as it is called, with severe pains in my back and legs, and with fainting spells which left me very weak. I was nervous and could not sleep nor eat as I should and spent much time in bed. I was in this state, more or less, for over two years, before Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me by my neighbor. Before I had taken five doses I was sitting up in bed, and when the first bottle was taken I was out of bed and able to walk around the house. During my sickness I had been obliged to get some one to look after my home for me, but thanks to the Vegetable Compound I am now able to look after it myself. I have taken Lydia E Pinkham's Blood Medicine in turn with the Vegetable Compound, and I certainly recommend these medicines to any one who is not enjoying good health. I am quite willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. SHEPHERD, 130 Jos. Janisse Avenue, Ford, Ontario.

Nervousness, irritability, painful times, run-down feelings and weakness are symptoms to be noted. Women suffering from these troubles, which they so often have, should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. All druggists sell this medicine. C

House Rents Low For London Tenants Under L.C.C. Plan

London, Oct. 1. — The London County Council has power to purchase land both inside and outside the county for the erection of dwellings, either compulsorily or by agreement. Under an act pased in 1924, houses, subject to special conditions as to their renting and to the amount of rent to be charged, receive a subsidy of £9, or $40.50, a year for forty years. Other houses subject to different conditions may receive a subsidy of £6 a year for twenty years. The council has also power to make a scheme for demolition of old houses in unhealthy areas. Such scheme must as a rule provide for new accommodation of the persons displaced.

In the four years ended March 1922, the London County Council had purchased land for the development of a number of houses and erected 9,985 dwellings at a gross cost of about $15,000,000, at rents varying from about seventy cents to $1.65 per room per week.

G. Topham Forrest, architect of the London County Council, is in charge of the development o estates and construction of dwellings in the county. London County comprises an area of 74,850 acres, and had a population of 4,484,523 in 1921.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Oct. 1 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—After early irregularity, the general list was stimulated by an easement in the call money rate to 4½ per cent. after renewing at 5½ per cent. The issues that have recently been prominent in the trading being featured though in the afternoon session the rail group reflected an improved demand influenced by the heavy carloading figures. There was evidence of a covering movement during the greater part of the day's session.

It is quite likely that the action of the Bank of England in reducing the discount rate and the cables reporting a good response in the London market to this action was a factor in creating the covering movement. The reduction in the English rate some interpreted as an indication of no change being made in the rediscount rate here, though from banking circles opinions were rather cautious in predicting what development would take place in the very near future.

The news generally was rather constructive. The carloadings and the oil figures as well as a firmer red metal market were the outstanding feature in the industries. Though a cut was announced in the iron products dividend from 75 cents to 50 cents quarterly which was probably influenced by a less favorable turn in the recent earnings of the company.

To-day's advance in a good measure was probably influenced by shorts retiring commitments and distributive sales most likely were again of a heavy volume.

New York, Oct. 1.—(By B. C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says:

Wall Street had its fears over the money situation relieved in unexpected fashion. Before the opening, announcement was cabled from London of a cut in the Bank of England rate to 4 per cent, compared with the 4½ per cent charge previously in effect. In view of the close co-operation existing between the British and American financial centres, this action was interpreted to signify that no increase in the local rediscount rate was in immediate prospect, thus dispelling the bugaboo about the speculators' dreams for several weeks. This development was reflected in an improved tone in the general list from the start of trading.

Strength in the Dodge issues reflected improvement in the company's operations. Output which was recently below 800 cars a day, while this compares with a high point above 1,100 cars earlier in the year, production is still running considerably above 1924, the record Dodge year. President Haynes estimates that production before the end of the year will amount to 275,000 cars compared with 225,000 in 1924. American Agricultural Chemical preferred spurted 4½ points to 72½, reflecting the expectation of action before the end of the year with regard to funding the 25½ per cent. dividend arrearage on the issue. Marland assumed the leadership of the oil group, spurting more than a point to 46, where it was scarcely more than a point below the year's high. This grain followed estimates placing earnings in excess of any previous year.

The average renewal rate for call money in September was 4.41 per cent, compared with 4.19 per cent in August and with 2.07 per cent in September last year. The banks look for a comptroller call in October for statement of condition as of same date in September. Time money market continues steady with rates unchanged. Money for sixty and ninety days is leading at 4 1-2 per cent bid, 4 3-4 per cent offers. It is understood some loans have been made for six months at 5 per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 1 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat: After an early flash of firmness prices broke badly to new lows on the movements, the May getting into new ground for the season and the December within 1 cent of the low on the crop. New and old wheat were traded in for the first time and the tendency was to give preference to the new wheat the pressure of Spring wheat both sides of the international line together with the utter lack of normal foreign demand is weighing on the market at this time and more than counteracting the relative steadiness in the domestic situation.

Longs have been going out of their wheat off and on and support has [illegible] from Duluth were that an embargo was pending unless the movement from the country ebbed, and reports indicated that the interior was letting up in their shipments to terminals. Northwest era markets were relatively easy in the early trading, but the reverse near the last. Much of the wheat selling was credited to the Northwest. The market presents a very unsettled condition and for the present continue to advise a trading position.

Corn: Gave a good account of itself in view of the weakness in the leading cereal and closed but fractionally lower. Private experts were inclined to reduce their estimates on the prospective yield, one placing the loss during September at 20,000,000 bushels. Movement of corn from the country is moderate and the demand for the offerings on spot were active with the premiums steady to firm. Corn has had a severe decline, largely in sympathy with the leading cereal.

Oats: Sagged in sympathy with leading grain. Commission house resting orders to buy were uncovered on the weak spots and these held the market. Run of oats from interior is tending to decrease and demand for the commercial offerings is satisfactory.

Rye: Sold off with wheat but showed relative steadiness at the last. There has been evidence of some betterment in the demand for this grain recently, but it has not been of the aggressive kind. Export demand continues slow.

HERE TO SECURE SALMON EGGS FOR LAKES OF IRELAND

Sir Thomas Gratton Esmonde Arrives on Coast From Irish Free State

With Lady Esmonde, Will Spend Some Time on This Island

Vancouver, B.C., Oct 1—On his twentieth hunting trip to Canada and commissioned by the Irish Free State, of which he is a Senator, to secure eggs of landlocked salmon for the lakes of his native land, Sir Thomas Gratton Esmonde, Bart., accompanied by Lady Esmonde, reached here Wednesday.

During the past ten days Sir Thomas and Lady Esmonde spent some time at the Canadian Pacific camp Number 6, at Bull River, where they were successful in bagging a mule deer, and black bear and enjoyed trout and greyling fishing.

Sir Thomas is the first Senator of the Irish Free State to visit Canada and spoke authoritatively and with great optimism regarding political conditions in Ireland.

"Conditions there are steadily improving," he stated. "Friendly relations exist between the two sections of the country, and as for the boundary question it will gradually settle itself."

Both Sir Thomas and Lady Esmonde expressed great affection for the British Columbia Coast, admitting that here they enjoyed a very homelike feeling. In his book, "Hunting Memories of Many Lands," Sir Thomas pays high tribute to the forests, fields and streams of the Dominion.

H. G. Byrne, local treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Railway and A. H. Pepper, secretary of the B.C. Anglers' Association, will assist Sir Thomas to arrange his fishing trips. With Lady Esmonde he expects to spend some time on Vancouver Island and will also visit Seattle before returning East via Banff where he will make a brief stop-over.

SUBMARINE SURVIVOR HEARD AT INQUIRY

Confirms Report Three Were Drowned Before Crash

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1. — Alfred Geire of New Bedford, one of the survivors of the S-51 disaster, testified at a hearing before the board of steamboat inspectors here to-day that when he came to the surface after the submarine had been rammed by the City of Rome, he counted six heads of men struggling in the water.

This is taken as confirmation of earlier reports that at least three men were drowned immediately the crash occurred. Two others were rescued with Geire.

SILVER TIP MINE STRIKES ITS ORE

News of the strike on the Silver Tip mine reached here to-day in a telegram from J. V. Clegg, who is in charge of operations on the property near Stewart, B.C. The Silver Tip mine is owned almost entirely by Victorians, and is just south of the Forty-nine mine, which has been taken over by the Premier Gold Mining Company.

"On September 22 we located the highest grade vein at the sound end of the Bella Coola claim on the Silver Tip," Mr. Clegg said in his telegram. "It contains silver sulphides, also native and ruby. We have also made some other discoveries."

New York, Oct. 1.—The daily average crude oil production in the United States decreased 24,000 barrels for the week ended September 26, totaling 2,107,400 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the week ending September 26 were 200,286 barrels, compared with 138,572 for the previous week, and 153,750 for the four weeks ending September 26.

Bishop de Pencier To Visit North

Kamloops, Oct. 1.—His Grace Archbishop A. U. de Pencier, who was elected to the archbishopric of the ecclesiastic diocese of British Columbia at a meeting of the Provincial House of Bishops at Kamloops, following the consecration of Right Rev. W. R. Adams, the new Bishop of Cariboo, will visit the northern parts of the diocese before returning to Vancouver. His Grace will hold a confirmation service at Prince George and an ordination at Prince Rupert.

"I can't assist you any longer, as I've a wife now, and I need all the money I can get," said a lawyer to a beggar he usually helped.

"Well, now, that's just coming it a little too strong. Here you actually go and get married at my expense."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Drastic declines were recorded in the wheat pit here to-day, following improved weather conditions in Western Canada, sharply lower cables and lack of export business. The close ranged from 3⅝ to 3⅞ lower, May losing the heaviest. October and November closed 3⅜ lower and December 3¾ decline.

The market at no time displayed strength, and indications are for still lower prices. After the first hour hedging pressures and offerings increased and with little real buying support prices sank rapidly, touching low marks for the year. Outside news to-day was bearish.

Coarse grains all closed lower in sympathy with wheat. There was a fair trade in oats and barley.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1 (R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat prices reached the lowest level to-day that have been quoted for over a year, finally closing around the bottom and showing loss of 3⅝ cents to 4 cents, with more favorable weather in the West sharply lower cables and very little export business. The market opened from 1 to 2 cents lower, and after holding steady for the first two hours finally came under pressure from hedging sales, and around the noon hour prices eased off rapidly and displayed little comeback.

Local exporters were doing nothing and stated they had no acceptances over night, and that the bids received this a.m. made it impossible to do business. Canadian millers were in the market for small lots of contract wheat, and took a few cars of off-grades, but their requirements were easily supplied. All the news to-day was more or less bearish with the Russian Government raising the estimate of their own crop, while American private experts raised the total production in the United States and showed a big increase in Winter wheat acreage which is said will create a record.

Deliveries of wheat by farmers at country elevators yesterday were 4,038,129 bushels, and the loadings out were 2,343 cars. There were 1,878 cars of wheat inspected yesterday, 1,608 grading contract. We believe wheat prices are due to sink lower less foreign buying develops on a much broader scale, of which there is no sign at present.

Coarse grains — These markets were erratic, largely following the trend of wheat. There was a fair business in oats and barley, with exporters taking both commodities. Offerings were liberal. The rye market was neglected with two hundred weight going through the clearing house.

Flax—Steady market closing a little lower grade, fair with American crushers taking small lots.

"HEARTS ADRIFT"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

THE EXILE'S RETURN

In her hotel suite in the town where she once had been a reigning belle, Madge waited impatiently for Tony Patterson to come to her.

She waited almost as a recluse, barricaded from all outsiders and the press.

At first, still confident of her power, she had gone boldly forth from her rooms gowned in the latest Parisian fashion. She had dined in the hotel restaurant and even gone to the theatre, but even as impervious as she had become, she had to own herself beaten after a day or two. Everywhere she met curious stares—stares that awakened to lively interest as recognition dawned. Despite the change in her appearance, she could not remain incognito in the town of her birth and, moreover, since her features had been blazoned on the front pages of the newspapers from time to time, following her elopement with Cartwright, she was a marked woman.

At the theatre, in the hotel and on the streets, she encountered former friends and acquaintances and all of them turned their heads away to avoid speaking to her. It was infinitely worse than Cannes and the occasional slights she had received from the American tourists who knew her story. Before a week had elapsed, she was ready to admit she made a mistake in returning. It was only her determination to see Patterson and complete the conquest which she confidently believed she had started abroad, that kept her from repacking her truks and seeking seclusion elsewhere.

Patterson, it so happened, was out of town. In answer to her summons, she had received from him a courteous note, assuring her that he would give himself the pleasure of calling upon her immediately upon his return.

A woman with less vanity and assurance than Madge, would scarcely have found it encouraging or considered it the preliminary to a proposal of marriage, but Madge was completely sure of her own power. She had never failed with a man yet and, with so much at stake, she was confident that she could not fail now!

The waiting was long and tiresome, and Madge loathed being alone. After much hesitation, she rang up Patricia and endeavored to carry off the situation with her old, gay insouciance.

But Patricia's voice over the telephone was cold.

"I'm sorry, Madge, but I am through. I did the best I could for you. You had your chance and you tossed it away. Heaven knows why. I can't do any more for you."

Madge became tearful.

"But I am so lonely, Pat. There isn't even any one to talk to."

"I'm sorry," Patricia repeated. "You voluntarily decided to leave Mr. Cartwright. You'll have to find new companions. I'll cherish a fondness for the girl you once were, but I can't give up any more of my life to help some one who deliberately wrecks herself."

Madge banged the receiver petulantly on the hook. But she told herself confidently that Patricia would get over her resentment sooner or later.

Time dragged endlessly after that. Finally, nerving herself to the ordeal, she called the house where she had been brought by her devoted grandmother after the loss of her parents on the Titanic, where she had made her debut as a girl, from where, as a bride, she had gone to the home Paul Bannister had provided for her.

The sound of the old familiar number brought a stab to her heart, and she was conscious of her quickened breathing while she waited for her call to be answered. The voice that answered was familiar to her, too—an old servitor who had been with Mrs. Demerest since Madge was a child. She asked for Lila and refused to give her name.

The sound of Lila's voice roused in her more emotion than she had believed she could feel. It brought home to her the realization of the eternal and unbreakable ties between blood kin.

"This is Madge, Lila," she found herself faltering.

There was a moment of silence, then Lila replied with apparent calmness:

"Ah, yes. I heard that you were in town again."

"Don't you want to see me, Lila?"

"Did you think I would?"

"Lila, please don't be hard," Madge pleaded. "I know I have been very wicked, and I have hurt you, but I want to see you so much."

Again Lila hesitated an appreciable moment, then she said:

"If you will tell me where you are, I will come to you, but you musn't come here. Grandmother has not been well for a long time. She is old now, Madge, and I am afraid of what a shock might do to her."

Lila came to the hotel that afternoon and Madge, for once found herself speechless before her. There was some quality in Lila's face, a sweetness and a purification as one who might have gone through fire and come out with all the dross burned away. It made Madge suddenly as if she ought to go on her knees before her and she saw, moreover that in Lila's eyes—eyes that had been young and fresh and happy when she had last looked into them—the shadow of suffering for which she, herself, was responsible, and which time could never eradicate.

It was a difficult interview. Madge found suddenly that she had nothing to say in her own defence and Lila made it harder for her by asking for none. They were two strangers with a gulf between them, which could never be bridged. It was all the sadder for the lurking memory in the mind of each of those old days when Madge used to sing softly in the twilight in the drawing-room and Lila would creep close to listen adoringly.

Mayor Tells Ratepayers Over Radio They Will Not be Asked to Pay

Explaining the many advantages to be derived from the purchase by the City of Victoria of the Esquimalt Waterworks, and urging upon city ratepayers that they give the civic body full support and backing necessary in such an undertaking, Mayor J. Carl Pendray, speaking over the radio from Station CFCT last night, made a strong case in favor of the city's policy relative to the expropriation of the Esquimalt water system. Asserting that the taxpayers would not be called upon for a cent of money to put the deal through, Mayor Pendray evoked their moral support and declared that they would not be disappointed over the results.

The Mayor gave the following address through a local radio station last night:

"It is all right to say that the people should have a voice as to the way in which their money has to be spent. Quite so, but there is no money being spent on the purchase of the Esquimalt waterworks system. The entire property can be paid for out of its own earnings, and the citizens of Victoria are not called upon to put up any money at all.

"I have often been asked the reason why the Esquimalt Waterworks Company has been willing to sell its undertaking on what would appear to be such advantageous terms to the city of Victoria. I do not know, nor do I wish to know, all the reasons which actuated Mr. Sayward in negotiating with the city on this question, but looking at the matter from an ordinary, common-sense point of view, I realize that all men reach that time of life when they feel a desire to be relieved from some of their heaviest business responsibilities. Probably Mr. Sayward had this feeling, and also thought that if he found himself unable to devote the necessary time to the general superintendence of the Esquimalt system, it might not make the progress it ought to do, and his investment might decrease in value.

"On the other hand, by selling out to the city of Victoria he is at once relieved of the heavy responsibility of managing this undertaking; he is assured of a substantial income, not only for himself, but those who might be dependent upon him, without any further worry, and he has more leisure to give to other matters. Surely, these are perfectly sound and logical reasons, and I do not think for one moment that there is the slightest ulterior motive behind Mr. Sayward's decision to dispose of the Esquimalt waterworks system.

SOOKE WILL SOON BE INADEQUATE

"There has been a general feeling in the city of Victoria that we have sufficient water at Sooke Lake for a city many times the present size of Victoria. This is quite correct; but, according to our present increasing rate of consumption, the pipe line from Sooke to Victoria will very soon be inadequate to supply sufficient water for our requirements. If the consumption of water in the city of Victoria and district continues to increase in the same ratio as over the last few years, it means that in seven or eight years' time another pipe line will have to be laid from Sooke to Victoria, costing the city much more than the whole price paid the Esquimalt Waterworks Company for its entire system. The purchase of the Esquimalt waterworks system, however, will make it unnecessary for the city to expend any moneys on another pipe line from Sooke, for many, many years to come, as the two systems will insure an ample supply for all purposes.

"I venture to say that the average taxpayer does not know that the main pipe line from Sooke to Victoria is only capable of carrying eighteen million gallons of water per day, and that during this Summer we have used water at the rate of more than thirteen million gallons per day at the peak of the load.

"The average taxpayer may not know that the income of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company for the year 1924 amounted to $63,518, plus a further $18,000 paid by the B.C. Electric Company for power developed at Goldstream, making a total of $81,850.

"The average taxpayer does not appreciate that, having acquired this system, we are now in a position to log off at least half a million dollars' worth of timber on our Sooke Lake watershed without hurting the watershed in any way. If necessary for such logging operations, the Sooke Lake system could be closed down during the Winter months and our entire supply of water drawn from Goldstream.

"The average taxpayer may not be aware that, after paying all interest charges, upkeep, depreciation, etc., the estimated net profits from the operations by the city of the Esquimalt waterworks system for the next twelve years will be approximately $76,900, based on the present rate of water consumption. If sales of water increase in the same proportion as they have done in the past, this profit will be very much larger.

"The average taxpayer may not know that the income of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company has increased from $47,470 in 1912 to $81,850 in 1924.

CONFIDENCE IN CITY

"I have every confidence in the future of the city of Victoria. I look forward to a big expansion and large industrial development. With this in mind, I am convinced that it was good business to acquire the Esquimalt waterworks system, not only from the standpoint of eliminating a private corporation and bringing this large asset into the hands of the people, but to place us in a position where we are able to offer water in almost unlimited quantities at a very low rate, as an inducement to new industries to establish their plants in and around Victoria. We have now sufficient water for fully developing and irrigating the whole of the Saanich Peninsula and surrounding district, all of which, both directly and indirectly, means more revenue to the citizens of Victoria.

"I ask the citizens to have confidence in their elected representatives, who have given a great deal of thought and study to the whole question of waterworks development, and, with one exception, we are unanimously of the opinion that it is good business for Victoria to acquire this additional source of supply.

"I ask the citizens to rally to the support of their representatives and refuse to sign the document now being circulated asking power from the Legislature to have the matter put before the taxpayers for a decision. I venture to state that if the parties circulating this petition would also circulate another petition asking the ratepayers to endorse the action of the City Council the latter petition would receive an immensely larger number of signatures.

"Some of the men who are responsible for the circulation of this petition are the same pessimistic individuals who have consistently opposed numerous plans for the advancement and development of Victoria and district, and their action in connection with the present petition is certainly not in the best interests of the city.

"Radio fans, I again repeat that I have every confidence in the future of the city of Victoria. We are on the eve of great developments. Stand behind your Mayor and Council, refuse to sign this petition, and show by your action that you approve of the work of your elected representatives."

"I don't know whether I like these photos or not," said the young woman. "They seem rather indistinct."

"But you must remember, madam," said the wily photographer, "that your face is not at all plain."
